2 Senators Hit Foes Of Cuba Policy

Sens. Mansfield, Humphrey Blast Republican Critics

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration, under heavy fire from its political opponents, is striking back at Republican critics of its Cuban policies.

In the face of a fresh assault by GOP congressional leaders on "the inept conduct of our foreign affairs by the Kennedy administration," Sens. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., and Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., have teamed to condemn what they called partisan and irresponsible charges.

Mansfield, the Democratic leader, pointed his guns at New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Sens. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y. and Hugh Scott, R-Pa. He told the Senate Monday that "irresponsible public utterances are playing dangerously with the fires of public emotion."

Humphrey called on Republicans to make certain that "a rash of charges that cannot be substantiated by facts do not find their way into this chamber" or into the newspapers.

"The people are worried, concerned and indeed confused because of so many conflicting reports," he said. He added that President Kennedy, the Defense Department and the Central Intelligence Agency "have been frank and candid" in disclosing Soviet military strength in Cuba.

Mansfield said Rockefeller was well informed on Latin American affairs, but, "I must confess that I looked in vain for a contribution worthy of him" in the governor's comments on Cuba.

Rockefeller has said the administration's disclosures about Cuba left many unanswered questions. He said that while Soviet soldiers and equipment there may not pose a military threat to the United States, they constitute a propaganda, subversive and possible military threat to other hemisphere nations.

Mansfield flatly denied — as Scott had suggested — that there was any deal between Soviet Premier Khrushchev and Kennedy for the removal of American missiles in Europe in exchange for the withdrawal of Soviet missiles in Cuba.

West Virginia Extension On Tax Amended

CHARLESTON (AP) — Only one question remained today about continuation of West Virginia's expiring retail sales tax increase: Will the Legislature extend it for one more year or permanently?

The Senate voted last month to make the increase permanent. Yesterday the House passed the Senate-approval bill 66-32 after first writing in a June 30, 1964 cutoff on the increase. Now the bill goes back to the Senate for its action, possibly today, on the House amendment.

The increase, from 2 to 3 per cent in the tax on sales above $1, was first passed at Gov. Barron's request two years ago as a seven-month temporary measure. Already extended twice, the boost would die with the end of this fiscal year June 30 without legislative action.

House passage came after the 59-38 defeat of an attempt by Minority Leader George H. Seibert Jr., R-Ohio, to amend the bill to exempt groceries and prescribed drugs entirely from the sales tax and to provide for a 3-per-cent rate all along the line instead of just above $1. The rate on $1 or less at present, and under the bill as passed, is 2 per cent.

The 23 Republicans present voted for the Seibert amendment. So did 15 Democrats, mostly from counties bordering on states which do not collect sales tax on groceries. Twenty-two Republicans voted against passage of the bill, but this time only 10 of the 76 Democrats joined them.

Del. Tsapis Sponsors 'Public Defender' Bill

CHARLESTON — Del. Callie Tsapis, D-Hancock, today sponsored two House measures which would provide for the appointment by the county court in each of the state's 55 counties of a "public defender" to represent accused persons unable to pay for counsel.

Bill Proposes Three School Terms In Ohio

Pupils Would Go 2 Of 3 'Trimesters' Under Assignment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Three full school terms to encompass the entire school year and make better use of Ohioans' huge school investment is the aim of a bill introduced Monday night as the legislature began its sixth work week.

Pupils would attend two of the three "trimesters," by assignment, and teachers would instruct for either two or three of the annual sessions, at their option, under a plan offered by Reps. Walter E. Powell, R-Butler; Sam Landes, R-Madison; Barry Levey, R-Butler, and Charles A. Mooney, D-Cuyahoga.

Powell, a school principal, advanted a similar plan two years ago, but it died after receiving approval of the House Education Committee.

The plan to make year-around use of school buildings would not be mandatory on local school boards. If the boards chose to experiment with the trimester plan, Powell and his co-sponsors suggest the year be split into three segments of about 80 school days each.

He said the plan would permit 50 per cent more pupils to use present school buildings over a year's time.

A major bill to be introduced today is a measure to prohibit unfair housing practices. It would prohibit refusal to sell, rent, lease, or transfer housing on grounds of race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry or refusal to negotiate for such purposes.

The measure also would bar a financial institution from inquiring into such matters and would ban publication of advertisements indicating any preference or limitation in the field.

Bill Aims At Beer Sold To Teenagers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Teenagers cruising around in a car with a case of 3.2 beer—Cruising around until they get up a head of steam and get into trouble.

That situation is the target of a vote today in the Ohio House.

Under present law, "non-intoxicating" 3.2 can be sold to young people 18 and up. Since it's non-intoxicating, it can be consumed in cars.

Baker Given New Term In School Post

Southern Local's Official Rehired Despite Opposition

Jack Baker of Salineville, executive head of Southern Local School District, was given a new 5-year contract by the Board of Education Monday night after one member opposed the move.

The board, which authorized offering new contracts for all 49 teachers, continued Baker's salary at $9,300 annually, a figure based upon the teacher salary schedule and state foundation program.

Charles Allison, board member, submitted a motion not to renew Baker's contract, citing what he termed lack of co-operation in some aspects of board policy. There was no second to the move.

There were about 20 at the meeting, including some teachers who said they believed Baker should be retained and had received co-operation on school matters with which they were connected.

Charles Stewart, board member, moved the contract be renewed, and Miss Ruth McNichol seconded, with all board mem-

Macmillan Program To Get Backing

Conservatives Set To Avert Falling Of Government

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan appeared certain to win parliamentary endorsement today of his program to counter the effects of the French veto barring Britain from the Common Market.

The House of Commons, winding up a two-day debate on the country's economic future, was scheduled to vote late in the day on a Labor party motion of no confidence. With the Conservatives holding a 100-vote margin over the combined Labor-Liberal opposition, there was virtually no chance that Macmillan's government would fall on the issue.

Opening the debate Monday, Macmillan roundly denounced President Charles de Gaulle's government for its veto, then outlined a series of emergency actions he is planning to fill the void caused by the collapsed negotiations.

Among them:

A Commonwealth trade ministers' meeting to be held in London in April or May to stimulate business.

Britain will seek closer trading cooperation with the United States, her friends in Europe and other nations.

The government intends to drive for world commodity agreements, a cutback of tariffs and freer trade generally.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer declared in an interview he feels certain Britain can gain admittance to the European trading bloc soon.

Impeachment Signs Greet Chief Justice

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Tight security measures and signs calling for his impeachment greeted Earl Warren, chief justice of the United States, Monday night. City and state leaders urged Georgians to treat the Supreme Court official with dignity and respect.

Warren is to speak today before an audience of students and faculty at Georgia Tech, commemorating the 75th anniversary of the school.

He arrived late Monday night under close police security. A few hours earlier an Atlanta physician was assured in state court that he had the constitutional right to display signs calling for impeachment of Warren. Twent-four signs have been placed about the city on private property.

Warren was chief justice in 1954 when the Supreme Court outlawed segregation in public schools.

Salary Boost Due Teachers At Wellsville

Faculty Veterans To Get More Pay In 'Longevity' Clause

Wellsville teachers are scheduled for a salary increase for the 1963-64 school term under action taken by the Board of Education Monday night.

The new salary schedule also includes a "longevity" clause, giving additional compensation to instructors with many years service.

The increases will cost $31,594 a year or $35,000 with retirement benefits.

The new salaries will be included on the contracts given the teachers for the next term beginning in September.

All teachers with two years professional training were given a flat $300 a year, regardless of years of experience. Those with three years training will receive $325 and those with four years will receive $350.

Teachers with five years professional training but no experience will receive $250 while those starting with a master's degree will receive $150 over the present salary schedule.

While those in the top brackets are scheduled to receive less of a basic increase, they were grant-

Strip Mining Proposal Hit In St. Clair

The group represented residents of Vale, Smith, Martha Sts. and the Glenmoor-Cannons Mills Rd. near Glenmoor.

The nine-man delegation said they hope for official action preventing strip mining and prohibiting heavy mining equipment from damaging township roads.

The township trustees recently were requested by a representative of the Bessemer Coal Co. of Fairfield for authorization to begin a mining operation along the Glenmoor-Cannons Mill Rd.

Trustees last night told the delegation the mine operation has not been started, and that legal preparations for the mining had not been completed.

Lorain Foulks, vice chairman, presided. Trustees are considering appointment of a trustee to replace Harold Williams, former chairman who died last week.

Contracts Let For Supplies For Primary

Election Board Also Accepts Withdrawal Of 2 From Ballot

Wellsville and Columbus firms received contracts to provide election supplies for the May 7 primaries Monday afternoon when the County Election Board met in its office here.

The board also approved the petitions of 165 candidates for the primaries and an Independent candidate whose name will appear on the November general election ballot.

It also accepted the withdrawal of a Democratic council candidate in Salem and a Republican candidate for the Board of Trustees in Leetonia. The withdrawals eliminate the need for a Democratic primary in Salem and a GOP primary in Leetonia because neither party has a contest in the two communities.

The board also made plans to conduct special elections after approving four tax levies for the May primaries.

The Wellsville Publishing Co. received the contract to furnish the ballots for the primaries on its low bid of $2,351.68. The only other bidder, the Dodge Publishing Co. of Salem, asked $2,941.89.

The Columbus Blank Book Co. was awarded the contract to supply precinct poll books for both the May primaries and the No-

Plans News Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy plans to hold a news conference at 4 p.m. EST Thursday. He met with newsmen last Thursday.

Would Spur Confidence And Trust

Asks For Plan To Cut Down Risk Of War By Accident

GENEVA (AP)—President Kennedy called today for the conclusion of a safeguarded nuclear test ban agreement that would promote confidence and trust among the nations.

In a message to the disarmament conference the President also urged the delegates to adopt measures to reduce the risk of war by accident, miscalculation or failure of communication.

His message was read to the conference by the chief American disarmament negotiator, William C. Foster.

Kennedy said agreement on a test ban treaty "does not lie within easy reach" but declared that "prospects seem somewhat more encouraging."

Shortly before the conference opened after a long recess Britain's chief negotiator said the Western powers may be willing to scale down still further the number of on-site inspections needed to control a nuclear test ban. But there was no indication the United States was ready for such a stand.

British Minister of State Joseph Godber told a news conference shortly before the resumption of the 17-nation disarmament conference that any such Western concession would require a corresponding Soviet willingness to meet the Western demand for foolproof safeguards.

Roads Ashed In New Snow

Slippery Conditions Follow For Autoists

Billed originally as a "light snow," a midmorning accumulation caused treacherous driving conditions and resulted in the call-out of highway cindering crews despite the fact they were to be off today because of Lincoln's birthday, a holiday for the department.

Gaylord Zellars, Division 11 superintendent serving as acting county superintendent at the Leetonia garage, said 16 cindering crews were sent out about 9 as the snow began accumulating.

"Light snow" had been forecast for the forenoon and Zellars said the directive to the highway crews predicted only flurries, but a snowstorm developed later and began moving east at a slow pace.

About 2 inches was expected.

Because of the rapid accumulation, East Liverpool street department trucks started rounds with ashes and salt a few minutes after the new storm began.

At mid-morning, the city's streets were generally slippery, particularly at spots where the new snow covered icy stretches. Sidewalks in the downtown area also were hazardous, as the snow concealed icy patches.

Before the new storm began, a street department front-end loader had been assigned to remove an accumulation of ice from W. 7th St., the aftermath of a storm of two weeks ago. In addition, a truck was scattering ashes on icy streets in Fisher Park.

Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare said the cinder crew was sent out in Wellsville this morning about 8:15 to cover the back streets which were icy. The men remained on the job after it started snowing, he said. The salt crew was ordered out about 10:15.

Despite the hazardous driving conditions, no traffic crashes had been reported to East Liverpool police by 11 a. m.

To explain the apparent paradox, Chief Americo J. Radeschi

From Adena To The Ivory Coast

Area Girl Proves Peace Corps Hit

DABOU, Ivory Coast (AP)—In one afternoon, Marlyn Hartzell, 23, taught English for three hours, bandaged a houseboy who had cut his hand, and refreshed her snakebite kit.

"I saw my first snake after five months in Ivory Coast," she confided.

Marlyn, of Adena, (Jefferson County) is a member of the Peace Corps and just about the biggest curiosity in Dabou.

"Go, see her, she is worth looking at," said the area's subprefect (administrator), Avit Bayoulou.

It was a stifling afternoon and Bayoulou was lying on a cot in his official apartment overlooking a lagoon. He was draped in a colorful, loose "boubou."

Mopping his brow, he talked about his town—5,000 inhabitants, all Christian, all of the boys go to school and more than 40 per cent of the girls.

All families have plots of land yielding coffee, coacoa or olive palms. The town has two oil transformation factories. An average family has five children. There are some with 12 or so. But no one starves because the trees droop with fruit and in season there is work for everybody.

Some families save between $100 and $200 a year—which is not surprising in this part of one of Africa's wealthiest nations.

"We have seven schools here—and there is a school in every village in the area," Chief Bayoulou was saying in perfect French. "But go to the normal school (teachers' school). You've got to see the American girl there."

"They come here after classes," she said.

The three bookshelves were crowded with books on Afri— Peace Corps literature. Her bedroom was next door, the bed covered with white mosquito netting. On the night-table, the latest circular from the local Peace Corps headquarters in nearby Abijan.

"For those with a velo (motor bike) or those receiving one shortly—no intercity travel without authorization. Also, no travel after dark," the memorandum said.

The school provided the furniture, the Peace Corps sent the dishes and the refrigerator.

"We are really well provided for," she said.

She teaches first, second and sixth year English to the Ivory Coast's future schoolteachers.

"They'll speak with an American accent," she said.

Miss Hartzell received a mas-

Because of the rapid accumulation, East Liverpool street department trucks started rounds with ashes and salt a few minutes after the new storm began.

At mid-morning, the city's streets were generally slippery, particularly at spots where the new snow covered icy stretches. Sidewalks in the downtown area also were hazardous, as the snow concealed icy patches.

Before the new storm began, a street department front-end loader had been assigned to remove an accumulation of ice from W. 7th St., the aftermath of a storm of two weeks ago. In addition, a truck was scattering ashes on icy streets in Fisher Park.

Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare said the cinder crew was sent out in Wellsville this morning about 8:15 to cover the back streets which were icy. The men remained on the job after it started snowing, he said. The salt crew was ordered out about 10:15.

Despite the hazardous driving conditions, no traffic crashes had been reported to East Liverpool police by 11 a. m.

From Adena To The Ivory Coast

Area Girl Proves Peace Corps Hit

DABOU, Ivory Coast (AP)—In one afternoon, Marlyn Hartzell, 23, taught English for three hours, bandaged a houseboy who had cut his hand, and refreshed her snakebite kit.

"I saw my first snake after five months in Ivory Coast," she confided.

Marlyn, of Adena, (Jefferson County) is a member of the Peace Corps and just about the biggest curiosity in Dabou.

"Go, see her, she is worth looking at," said the area's subprefect (administrator), Avit Bayoulou.

It was a stifling afternoon and Bayoulou was lying on a cot in his official apartment overlooking a lagoon. He was draped in a colorful, loose "boubou."

Mopping his brow, he talked about his town—5,000 inhabitants, all Christian, all of the boys go to school and more than 40 per cent of the girls.

All families have plots of land yielding coffee, coacoa or olive palms. The town has two oil transformation factories. An average family has five children. There are some with 12 or so. But no one starves because the trees droop with fruit and in season there is work for everybody.

Some families save between $100 and $200 a year—which is not surprising in this part of one of Africa's wealthiest nations.

"We have seven schools here—and there is a school in every village in the area," Chief Bayoulou was saying in perfect French. "But go to the normal school (teachers' school). You've got to see the American girl there."

"They come here after classes," she said.

The three bookshelves were crowded with books on Afri—Peace Corps literature. Her bedroom was next door, the bed covered with white mosquito netting. On the night-table, the latest circular from the local Peace Corps headquarters in nearby Abijan.

"For those with a velo (motor bike) or those receiving one shortly—no intercity travel without authorization. Also, no travel after dark," the memorandum said.

The school provided the furniture, the Peace Corps sent the dishes and the refrigerator.

"We are really well provided for," she said.

She teaches first, second and sixth year English to the Ivory Coast's future schoolteachers.

"They'll speak with an American accent," she said.

Miss Hartzell received a mas-

ed additional increments for experience.

The top salary for a starting teacher with no experience will be $3,700. They will be given $100 additional for each year experience for a top salary of $4,700. The starting salary for any instructor with three years training will be $3,975 with a top of $4,975 after 10 years experience, which also is $100 a year increment.

The starting salary with four years training will be $4,300 with $100 a year increments for 12 years, making the top $5,500.

A teacher with five years professional training, but not experience, will receive $4,400. They then receive varying increments to attain a top salary of $5,780 after 12 years experience. Those with master's degrees will start at $4,500 and gain varying increments up to $6,000 after 12 years experience.

The lowest salary now is $3,400 and the highest is $5,550.

To participate in the longevity salary schedule, a professional staff member must have 10 years experience in the Wellsville district. An additional $50 a year will be given a teacher with 25 to 29 years experience, $100 for 30 to 34 years, $150 for 35 to 39 years and $200 for 40 and up.

Minor changes also were made in some of the fees paid instructors for serving as sponsors of various groups.

The newspaper sponsor was granted $25 a year more, making the pay $125 a year. Raises of $50 were given sponsors of the high school yearbook, Junior Class, Senior Class and school treasurer. The new salary is $150 a year.

The cheerleader sponsor will receive $125 for the extra duties, an increase of $25. National Honor Society was added to the list of sponsors and will pay $50 a year. The senior play sponsor will receive $200, with half paid by the Senior Class. The salary was $50 from the board.

Added to the last was a science club which will pay $200 to the sponsor. This also will include the old camera club.

Under the extra duties section, the band director was added for $600 a year and the chorus director was added for $300 a year.

Previously the band director was paid for two months extended service. Under the new setup, the director will receive the flat $600 for extra duties.

Richard Grills, board member, objected to paying $600 extra for the band director as this is the same for a football coach. He said the coach should make more.

It was pointed out the director is responsible for the band during parades, concerts, participating in contests and band camp.

Grills also commented other good teachers, such as history or English instructors, should be compensated for the extra time they spend with students.

Grills finally conceded that he would agree to the $600 if he could see the director's schedule.

No changes were made in other sponsorships or the compensation given for other extra duties.

It was explained the changes were made to bring the compensation more in line with the amount of work being done.

bers, including Allison, voting in favor.

The board adopted a policy of offering one - year contracts to beginning teachers, and three-year contracts to teachers with provisional certificates.

Continuing contracts will be offered eight teachers.

A survey to determine how many parents wish to send youngsters to a proposed summer kindergarten was authorized by the board, with letters to be distributed this week.

Parents with youngsters who will enter first grade in the fall are to advise school authorities by March 8 if they want their children enrolled.

The classes would be held June 17-July 26 at Highlandtown, with two morning classes if there is sufficient registration.

The board authorized a formal letter of request to the Columbiana County Health Department for pre-school physical examinations for youngsters.

The county department recently suggested private physicians be utilized for examinations, but board members felt that the county service provided for a broader check on student conditions and of special benefit to the overall school program.

At Baker's suggestion, the board authorized plans for a special meeting with the school architect to study possible arrangements for eventual seventh and eighth grade classrooms at the new high school on Route 39.

The board authorized the retentation of Jerry Strabley of Salineville, Kent State University graduate, as a speech and hearing therapist for the spring. He will also serve at United Local District on a half-day basis.

Baker was authorized to attend the convention of the American School Administrators Association at Atlantic City starting Saturday.

Merger Bid Turned Down

The Midland Board of Education was advised Monday night that the Western Beaver County School District is not interested in combining the two districts.

In a letter to the Midland board, Frank Meredith, supervising principal, said the Western Beaver board "is not interested at this time."

The Midland board had invited the Western Beaver system sometime ago to have the question of combining the two districts submitted to school district voters at the May primaries.

In other business, the board employed Spears & Pascoe, New Castle consulting engineers, to prepare plans and specifications for new boilers in the high school heating system.

Two bids to furnish a new truck for the maintenance department were referred to the property committee for a recommendation.

The board also approved a new system for sale of bus tickets for Midland Heights and Midcrest pupils to the high school. Under the new plan, weekly passes will be sold rather than a strip of tickets.

Raymond Stowitzky, guidance director, was given permission to attend a state guidance directors' convention next month in Hershey.

The board also approved installation of safety belts in the driver education auto.

The Leopards Club was granted permission to use the high school gymnasium for the annual holiday tournament it sponsors in December.

vember general election on its bid of $24.05 per precinct.

The Johnson-Watson Co. of Dayton asked $25.30 per precinct and the Herr Printing Co., also of Columbus, offered poll books at $25.40 per precinct.

After checking the sufficiency of the nominating petitions, the board accepted the petitions of 86 Republicans and 79 Democrats for the party primaries.

It also accepted the petition of Stephen Bozick as an Independent candidate for mayor in East Palestine. By filing an an Independent, Bozick will bypass the primaries and his name will be listed as a mayoralty candidate in November.

The withdrawals of Arnold Kovach as a Democratic candidate for Fourth Ward councilman in Salem and Donald J. Stelts as a Republican candidate for the Board of Trustees in Leetonia were accepted.

Kovach had announced Friday that he would withdraw. He said he had been advised by the election board he was not eligible to run on the Democratic ticket because he had voted as a Republican in the 1959 primary.

His withdrawal left Robert C. Straub unopposed for the party's nomination for the Council seat and eliminates the necessity for the party primary.

No reason was announced for Stelts' withdrawal, which eliminated any contest on the GOP ticket in Leetonia. Clarence Bricker, Russell E. Smith and Orrin G. Deffenbaugh now are unopposed for the GOP nomination for the Board of Trustees.

Saturday is the deadline for withdrawals, the board reminded candidates.

Both Republicans and Democrats will have primaries in East Liverpool, Wellsville and East Palestine with only GOP primaries in Columbiana and Salem.

The only contest in Columbiana is among three candidates for two Council nominations while Salem Republicans must select a candidate for solicitor and Fourth Ward residents also will select a Council nominee.

The uncontested candidates in Lisbon and Leetonia and Democratic candidates in Columbiana and Salem will by-pass the May primaries under the "no contest" law and enter the November general election.

The board also granted ballot places to four questions and issues on which voters will ballot at special elections to be held in conjunction with the May primaries.

They include a 2-mill levy for two years in Wellsville to finance the purchase of a new fire trucks, renewal of two existing levies totaling 8 mills for five years in the Leetonia Exempted Village School District, and renewal of an existing 16-mill levy for current expenses in the Lisbon Exempted Village School District. Both would be in effect for five years.

Since no primaries are scheduled in Lisbon or Leetonia, the board decided to employ only two judges and two clerks in each precinct rather than three of each in area where precincts will be conducted.

At 11 a. m., the accumulation in downtown East Liverpool was approximately an inch and leaden skies held no promise of an early end to the storm.

District roads were becoming increasingly slippery and hazardous as the snow continued late this morning, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol near Steubenville said all the highways in its area were "very bad."

The Unfinished Work . . .

"It is for us the living . . . to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced," said Abraham Lincoln at Gettysburg.

That was 100 years ago next Nov. 19.

The work is still unfinished. Those still striving to finish it in the spirit of dedication that Abraham Lincoln called on his countrymen to show are under relentless criticism.

There are living among us now as there were living among our forebears a century ago those who would divide the United States and make special rules for all who chafe under constitutional government.

Some of our fellow countrymen tell us that the Civil War never should have been fought and was settled wrong, according to their lights of what would have been a better settlement. We live in the presence of divisive elements that assert themselves in Congress, itself, to take away honor from the Americans who died at Gettysburg to preserve the Union—to make what they did of no avail.

Abraham Lincoln was a man of vision. When he spoke of "unfinished work," he may have known what others have been slow to learn; that the breach in the Union would be slow to close because tireless attempts to keep it open would be forthcoming from irreconcilables.

They are still with us, still trying to divide the United States.

One can only wonder what they think when they reread the Gettysburg Address each year on Feb. 12.

Pay-As-You-Go Highways

Each year, the Ohio Turnpike Commission's annual report is an invitation to think about an old-new concept of highway transportation.

The "turnpike" is as old as the sharp-pointed pike that barred a travelers passage until he had paid toll and the pike was turned aside. The Ohio Turnpike is as new as the latest conveniences its management has added to its services.

Management can afford to do this. The Ohio Turnpike pays for itself. It pays for itself because its users justify the tolls they are charged by demonstrated savings in the cost of their travel.

No vehicle can be driven off the Ohio Turnpike for as little as it costs to drive on the turnpike; that is the secret of the project's continued success. The only exception is a turnpike-like public road built with public money.

The turnpike makes money enough to keep it in repair.

It is the safest road of its kind.

Turnpike driving saves wear and tear on vehicles, besides operating costs.

When the project has run its full course and reverts to ownership by the state, it will have been a sound investment for the bondholders, the leaseholders and all the people who paid tolls to use it. Everybody gained.

The next thought is obvious.

If this highway project can be made to pay for itself because motorists cannot afford to stay off it, why shouldn't other essential highway projects be capitalized and paid for in the same way?

Highway transportation is a quid pro quo arrangement—something for something, but nothing for nothing. Whether the wherewithal to build the highways needed for the 20th century comes entirely from excise taxes or a combination of excise taxes and tolls makes no difference in the service performed by the highways. It will make no difference to the next generation either.

When the federal government finally realizes it cannot carry the entire burden of a complete highway system and the state governments admit they are at the point of no return on boosting gasoline taxes the, pay-as-you-go toll road will still look like a sound idea for laying down and maintaining modern highways.

Keep 'Em Clean

Continued reports of falls on icy pavements back up the recent appeal by the city that merchants and home owners alike see to it that their walks are kept clean.

It's a responsibility that should not be ignored in the interests of all. The speedier walks are cleaned the less likely the possibility of an aftermath that could be costly in more ways than one.

A Good Job

The Police Department — with an assist from the firemen—did a good job during Saturday night's incident at the Keys company on Market St.

It's reassuring to know that competent people are on call when trouble occurs.

Looks Like Harold Wilson

Even without the rebuff by France over Britain's Common Market application, Britan's Labor party leadership would have been a vital decision. The death of Hugh Gaitskell, who had staked his Labor party career on being able to steer his followers on a middle course, left the leadership up for grabs by extremists.

The party is a mixture of intellectuals, left-wing socialists and bread-and-butter unionists. Its leader must be a mixture of the same thing, with infinite patience and a genius for reconciling the irreconcilable. Gaitskell had the patience and genius.

His successor apparently will be Harold Wilson, who draws his strength from the party's left and its intellectual fringe. Wilson is young, only 46. He is mentally nimble and outstandingly skillful in parliamentary and political performances. He is foreign minister in what Britons call the "shadow cabinet" — the group of opposition members of the House of Commons who would step into power in the event of a parliamentary upset.

In last Thursday's election, Wilson didn't poll the majority he needed to pin down the job left vacant by Gaitskell's death. Another election will be held within a week. If Wilson comes out on top it is likely he will take a position of moderation on the Common Market and British relations with the United States.

It is significant that French President De Gaulle mistrusts British dependence on the United States for nuclear defense as much as extremists in the British Labor party mistrusts it; that the late Hugh Gaitskell was opposed to Briton's entry into the Common Market long before Charles De Gaulle revealed he was opposed to it too.

Private War

By Truman Twill

I keep wondering about the private war with the Soviet Union going on in television and magazine and book publishing. When were these people given the right to wage war in the name of the United States with a country with which we are maintaining friendly relations?

I read a magazine story in which the Soviet Union was designated as the enemy of the United States and its government figures were called by name as persons responsible for decisions involving the lives of millions of Americans and Russians. At the climax of the story, Americans and Russians were dying by millions.

It's a rare week on television when Russians aren't dealt with as nationals of a government committing hostile acts, or preparing to wipe the United States off the earth. This sort of thing has become so common it's taken for granted until its implications are realized.

When it's realized that millions of us are being brain-washed to accept a state of war with the Soviet Union as something that has been acknowledged — something there's no question about — you break into a sweat.

If a Russian politician makes a speech showing hostility to capitalism, we press the nettle to our breasts and bleed and bleed. But if a fiction writer in the United States writes a novel or a scenario for a TV play putting the finger on the Soviet Union as our implacable enemy — not just Communism but the Soviet Union — we don't bat an eye.

It's as loony as the upside-down psychology when Khrushchev revealed the United States had been spying on the Soviet Union with U2 planes. Were Americans sore because their country had been doing what would have made them furious if the Russians had done it to them? No.

They were sore because their government hadn't told them what it was doing. They were mad at it for letting a U2 plane get shot down and its pilot captured on the eve of a summit conference in Paris.

I do not relish the idea of being indoctrinated for the gain of television, publishing or any other private interest. I can hear these people squealing about their rights if ordered to lay off, but personally I'd let 'em squeal.

I like the idea that governments are innocent of war until proved guilty. Granted that the Soviet Union hasn't been easy to get along with and granted that the Communist Conspiracy makes it tough to make the world safe for capitalism, I do not grant that anyone has the right to tell me I am at war except Congress.

This is spelled out in the Constitution.

It says nothing in that document about these other people.

They are acting on their own responsibility.

I reject the propriety and taste of what they are doing. I cannot make them stop doing it, but I can take a walk while they do it — and if enough of us go walking there will be no money in it.

This and That

A track star who is sprinting at full speed about 22 miles an hour has a foot on the ground roughly about half the time. By contrast, the hopping spring haas of Africa, an animal resembling the rabbit, keeps its body in the air 85 per cent of the time at its speed of about 15 miles an hour. Heavy animals like elephants always keep two or three feet on the ground, even when they are moving rapidly. An elephant's top speed is about 30 miles an hour.

There is no difference in the blood of one race as compared with another. Scientists, after careful study and experiment, have found that all human blood is the same and all races have the same four blood types.

Would He Be As Proud Of Us?

Time For An Appeal To Reason

By Victor Riesel

Two irritated labor chiefs, leaders of millions of unionists, sounded off in the White House Fish Room on the morning of Wednesday, Feb. 6th, while awaiting President John Kennedy. They were not criticizing industrialists. They were condemning a labor man and the strike he was leading.

Victor Riesel

They censured Bert Powers, head of the "Big Six," New York Typographical Union local. Its stoppage has cost the city's press, newspaper people and the community more than $200 million.

The two national labor leaders in the White House said that Powers should come off it. They averred the strike should end. Powers should make the best bargain he could — and a mighty fine bargain it would be.

They asserted, out of their own experience in leading coast - to - coast strikes, little more could be gained now by Powers for his people, but great damage could be done to an already hard-hit industry.

ALL THIS was said inside the off-the-record confines of the Fish Room. They would not say it publicly. I was pledged even to keep their names off-the-record.

Why will they not speak out? Because they are bound by taboos, by old shibboleths of solidarity.

One labor leader, regardless of what he thinks and says privately about another on strike, is bound by these taboos. Every strike is sacrosanct. Every picket line is a command. Every set of demands is a call for unconditional surrender.

Yet this is what leads to concentration of power in thousands of labor bailiwicks across the land. This is what leads to the alienation of the public.

This is what leads to what Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz calls industrial "brinkmanship."

And because the national labor leaders do not speak out, their friends in the Congress and the White House do not act. Thus is why President Kennedy positively will not send a labor message to Congress this session. He will not ask for more labor-management peace weapons in his "arsenal."

WHAT THEN do the national labor leaders gain from their silence?

They undercut their own influence by permitting the regional labor chiefs to develop into powerful caliphs, supreme inside their own suzerainty.

This is dangerous in a movement which has more than 60,000 locals led by some 500,000 officials of all echelons.

Look to England for a measure of this danger. There virtually all of the national labor leaders are helpless before the power of small bands of shop stewards who control construction projects, or the employes at the London Airport, or the workers at Ford's strike-riddled Dagenham plant, or the economically vital London waterfront.

Walter Reuther realized this some time ago. The last General Motors strike was virtually at an end. But some locals held out. Reuther told the GM-auto union council the men must go back to work.

Reuther declared that one local union "can paralyze the entire corporation." And this is a corporation with more than 400,000 employes.

THEIR SECURITY, the corporation's security, is vital to the economic security of the entire U.S. And what is vital to the U.S. is vital for the world.

Up in New York City, the other day one local of the International Longshoremen's Association refused to accept the pact which ended the billion-dollar waterfront strike. This was the lighter and barge captains union.

If it had thrown picket lines around the New York docks the vast strike might have flared up again. Fortunately it finally signed up. But that local has all of 70 members.

There are, too, the defense and space installations. The leaders of the national construction unions know how helpless they were during the wave of strikes on the missile and testing centers.

A protest against two men crippled the Huntsville experimentation center. A strike against the National Aeronautics and Space Administration over 12 jobs on launching pads paralyzed work at Canaveral. There are hundreds of such instances.

IT'S ALL become a jungle — impassable because of the taboos and old slogans which were needed when the late Sam Gompers, then president of the AFL, led a movement so poor he could not afford an extra pair of shoes and so went to his office in bedroom slippers. But that's ancient history.

Certainly now among the thousands of men who lead labor there are statesmen, crusaders, deep in the dynamics of their communities. But there are also the men who are in it for what they can get out of their unions. There are muscle men and thieves.

There are men such as Sandy Smith, second vice president of the Hod Carriers, who was just convicted in Springfield, Ill., of evading income taxes on money allegedly received from the sale of labor peace.

Obviously in a free society working people must have the right to collective withholding of their labor. But just as obviously there comes a time when the public must not be squeezed in the middle, nor the nation either.

THIS POWER to squeeze must not rest automatically in the hands of all those who have the power to call a strike.

All this will be discussed at the next meeting of the President's Labor - Management Advisory Committee.

They will review what Sweden has done through its organization of all business on one side and all labor on the other and peaceful negotiations by both on top.

But the United States is not Sweden. Our land is far bigger, more complex. It should be big enough for a return to reason on this front. And the time has come for the national labor leaders to sound off with an appeal to reason. Or the public will clobber them.

A Frank Approach

Kennedy Takes Firm Stand On Cuba

What size army needs 17,000 "weapons instructors"? This is the latest question raised as a result of Premier Khrushchev's comment in connection with the presence in Cuba of Soviet troops and technicians who are familiar with the most advanced types of armament in a nuclear age.

David Lawrence

What objective can such a military operation have except to participate in revolutions throughout Latin America?

Certainly these queries become more pertinent than ever now that the Soviet premier attempted over the weekend to belittle the military aid he is giving the Castro regime. But Mr. Khrushchev is not fooling President Kennedy.

There was something in the President's voice, for instance, in his earnestness of expression for a few brief minutes during his last news conference, that tells more about the Cuban crisis than all the words of the transcript and the two-hour explanation on television by the Defense Department.

Mr. Kennedy handled himself with a frankness that reflected the serious concern of his countrymen.

If Premier Khrushchev reads the President's words carefully, he will find that the United States has not retreated, has not dropped its guard, and is not afraid to take the major steps that may become necessary if any deception of act or purpose should be proved.

NOR SHOULD those members of Congress who have brought matters to a head in the debate over offensive or defensive weapons remaining in Cuba be brushed aside as irresponsible critics. They have performed a constructive service. They have let Mr. Khrushchev know that President Kennedy is being questioned by the public opinion of his own country, which remains suspicious.

If the Soviet premier doesn't take the hint, he is not the man of peace and peaceful coexistence he has professed to be. If he is on the level in the Cuban affair, he now has a dramatic opportunity to prove it.

The crux of the whole dispute is not whether missiles remain in Cuba that could be used offensively, but why the Soviets keep 17,000 troops and technicians there with tanks and other armament.

The real point is the fear in the United States that the Russians have acquired a permanent military base next door to this country and are establishing the first colony in the Western Hemisphere that any European government has founded since the Monroe Doctrine was proclaimed in 1823.

These are not partisan matters. Democrats as well as Republicans have been prodding the President for more information. The result has been constructive. Mr. Kennedy now has resolutely begun to press for a clarification of purpose from Mr. Khrushchev.

APART from all the photographic proofs of dismantled bases and all the talk about offensive and defensive weapons, it is realistic to note that photos cannot be made from the air at night or in bad weather, and that at any moment an irresponsible Castro can shoot down our planes.

Nobody should be under any illusion that President Kennedy himself hasn't thought about this. When the President was asked at his news conference whether defensive weapons fired from a patrol boat — Komar missiles, for instance — could become offensive, he answered in the negative, and then added:

"If there is going to be that kind of an attack on the United States, then you're going to have them with much larger weapons than a Komar torpedo boat can carry. Then you are talking about the willingness of the Soviet Union to begin a major war.

"Now if the Soviet Union is prepared to begin a major war, which will result in hundreds of millions of casualties by the time it is finished, then, of course, we all face a situation which is extremely grave.

"I do not believe that that is what the Soviet Union wants, because I think they have other interests. I think they wish to seize power, but I don't think they wish to do so by war. I therefore doubt if a Komar torpedo boat is going to attack the United States very soon.

"Now it is possible — it is possible — everything is possible. And after our experience last fall we operate on the assumption, while hoping for the best, we expect the worst. It is very possible that the worst will come, and we should prepare for it. That is why we continue our daily surveillance. It is possible, conceivable.

"We cannot prove that there is not a missile in a cave or that the Soviet Union isn't going to ship some next week. We prepare for that. But we will find them when they do, and when they do, the Soviet Union and Cuba and the United States must all be aware that this will produce the greatest crisis which the world has faced in its history. So I think the Soviet Union will proceed with caution and care, and I think we should."

MOSCOW MAY perceive in these lines an opportunity to set the record straight and chart a different course.

The President has made his position plain, and the critics, too, have made their points. Mr. Kennedy spoke at his last news conference not in the manner of the politician but with the natural sincerity of a president of the United States who has become conscious of an overwhelming responsibility to deal firmly with the presence of Soviet troops and armament in Cuba.

Kennedy Baffled

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The Russians and his critics are baffling President Kennedy. He can't get the Russians out of Cuba and he can't get the critics to shut up about it.

This can get worse before it gets better if the Russians put their mind to it and find more places to put more troops, which would be playing tit-for-tat with the United States, a game this country hasn't liked so far.

The Republicans gibed at Kennedy toward the end of his first year in office after he had spent most of his time hopping from one serious foreign problem to another.

Kennedy, who seems to be imitating former President Eisenhower in not trying to take the skin off his critics personally, sort of rolled with the punches and kept his popularity high, as Eisenhower did. Kennedy got some more last year.

Now once again the Republicans and some Democrats, are on Kennedy's back, this time about the presence of the Soviet troops in Cuba.

Monday Republican leaders in Congress teamed up to denounce the administration's conduct of foreign affairs, claiming it is causing anti-Americanism abroad.

Kennedy, beginning to show more sensitivity to attacks although not enough yet to do any real fighting, hit at his critics indirectly last week through Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara in a way unparalled in American history.

He put McNamara and an aide on television for two hours, complete with photographs of Cuba, to tell the public the Soviet troops and weapons there were not, at least now, a direct threat to any area in the Western Hemisphere.

It didn't quiet the critics. Now —particularly the Republicans— they're making more noise than ever. This leaves Kennedy with an exasperating question:

"If I can't convince people of what I say after this performance, how can I do it?"

One way might be to go to the people and after the critics himself. A head-on brawl, however, seems contrary to his political philosophy, although he may come to it if he feels he's being made a political punching bag.

Meanwhile the critics, clamoring for the removal of the Russians from Fidel Castro's feudal island, are a little short on solutions themselves.

An American invasion would be the very surest way to eliminate the Russians from it. But no one is suggesting that. They're on Castro's island with his approval, and any attack on them would probably mean war with Russia.

Kennedy was willing to risk war to force the Russian missiles out of Cuba last fall because, he said, they were a total menace. But a war would hardly be justified to get rid of troops who, he says, are not a menace.

About the best he can do is dicker with Premier Khrushchev who may be keeping his troops in Cuba in order to force Kennedy to dicker.

The Unfinished Work . . .

"It is for us the living . . . to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced," said Abraham Lincoln at Gettysburg.

That was 100 years ago next Nov. 19.

The work is still unfinished. Those still striving to finish it in the spirit of dedication that Abraham Lincoln called on his countrymen to show are under relentless criticism.

There are living among us now as there were living among our forebears a century ago those who would divide the United States and make special rules for all who chafe under constitutional government.

Some of our fellow countrymen tell us that the Civil War never should have been fought and was settled wrong, according to their lights of what would have been a better settlement. We live in the presence of divisive elements that assert themselves in Congress, itself, to take away honor from the Americans who died at Gettysburg to preserve the Union—to make what they did of no avail.

Abraham Lincoln was a man of vision. When he spoke of "unfinished work," he may have known what others have been slow to learn; that the breach in the Union would be slow to close because tireless attempts to keep it open would be forthcoming from irreconcilables.

They are still with us, still trying to divide the United States.

One can only wonder what they think when they reread the Gettysburg Address each year on Feb. 12.

Pay-As-You-Go Highways

Each year, the Ohio Turnpike Commission's annual report is an invitation to think about an old-new concept of highway transportation.

The "turnpike" is as old as the sharp-pointed pike that barred a travelers passage until he had paid toll and the pike was turned aside. The Ohio Turnpike is as new as the latest conveniences its management has added to its services.

Management can afford to do this. The Ohio Turnpike pays for itself. It pays for itself because its users justify the tolls they are charged by demonstrated savings in the cost of their travel.

No vehicle can be driven off the Ohio Turnpike for as little as it costs to drive on the turnpike; that is the secret of the project's continued success. The only exception is a turnpike-like public road built with public money.

The turnpike makes money enough to keep it in repair.

It is the safest road of its kind.

Turnpike driving saves wear and tear on vehicles, besides operating costs.

When the project has run its full course and reverts to ownership by the state, it will have been a sound investment for the bondholders, the leaseholders and all the people who paid tolls to use it. Everybody gained.

The next thought is obvious.

If this highway project can be made to pay for itself because motorists cannot afford to stay off it, why shouldn't other essential highway projects be capitalized and paid for in the same way?

Highway transportation is a quid pro quo arrangement—something for something, but nothing for nothing. Whether the wherewithal to build the highways needed for the 20th century comes entirely from excise taxes or a combination of excise taxes and tolls makes no difference in the service performed by the highways. It will make no difference to the next generation either.

When the federal government finally realizes it cannot carry the entire burden of a complete highway system and the state governments admit they are at the point of no return on boosting gasoline taxes the, pay-as-you-go toll road will still look like a sound idea for laying down and maintaining modern highways.

Obviously in a free society working people must have the right to collective withholding of their labor. But just as obviously there comes a time when the public must not be squeezed in the middle, nor the nation either.

THIS POWER to squeeze must not rest automatically in the hands of all those who have the power to call a strike.

All this will be discussed at the next meeting of the President's Labor - Management Advisory Committee.

They will review what Sweden has done through its organization of all business on one side and all labor on the other and peaceful negotiations by both on top.

But the United States is not Sweden. Our land is far bigger, more complex. It should be big enough for a return to reason on this front. And the time has come for the national labor leaders to sound off with an appeal to reason. Or the public will clobber them.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Smith of Pyramus St. left to spend the remainder of the winter at Mt. Plymouth, Fla.

Plans were launched for the organization of the East Liverpool Unemployed Industrial Association, with George Schepp as temporary chairman.

Dr. Edward Miskall, health commissioner, reported that births exceeded deaths in East Liverpool by 68 during 1932.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — A newly-formed club known as the Duration Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Florence Davis of Lisbon Rd., Wellsville.

Mike Forzano, Michael Winters, Albert Barchaw, William Cooper and Robert Frazier were in charge of arrangements for a Valentine dance sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

TEN YEARS AGO — Sondra Hardy and Tom Whippler reigned over the sixth annual carnival sponsored by the student council of Chester High School.

Ira G. Davis was appointed a trustee of St. Clair Township.

The general acceptance of 21 years as the age of maturity is supposed to have originated in the completion of three periods of "growing up" — seven years of infancy, seven years of childhood to puberty and seven years of adolescence to manhood or womanhood.

A Frank Approach

Kennedy Takes Firm Stand On Cuba

What size army needs 17,000 "weapons instructors"? This is the latest question raised as a result of Premier Khrushchev's comment in connection with the presence in Cuba of Soviet troops and technicians who are familiar with the most advanced types of armament in a nuclear age.

David Lawrence

What objective can such a military operation have except to participate in revolutions throughout Latin America?

Certainly these queries become more pertinent than ever now that the Soviet premier attempted over the weekend to belittle the military aid he is giving the Castro regime. But Mr. Khrushchev is not fooling President Kennedy.

There was something in the President's voice, for instance, in his earnestness of expression for a few brief minutes during his last news conference, that tells more about the Cuban crisis than all the words of the transcript and the two-hour explanation on television by the Defense Department.

Mr. Kennedy handled himself with a frankness that reflected the serious concern of his countrymen.

If Premier Khrushchev reads the President's words carefully, he will find that the United States has not retreated, has not dropped its guard, and is not afraid to take the major steps that may become necessary if any deception of act or purpose should be proved.

NOR SHOULD those members of Congress who have brought matters to a head in the debate over offensive or defensive weapons remaining in Cuba be brushed aside as irresponsible critics. They have performed a constructive service. They have let Mr. Khrushchev know that President Kennedy is being questioned by the public opinion of his own country, which remains suspicious.

If the Soviet premier doesn't take the hint, he is not the man of peace and peaceful coexistence he has professed to be. If he is on the level in the Cuban affair, he now has a dramatic opportunity to prove it.

The crux of the whole dispute is not whether missiles remain in Cuba that could be used offensively, but why the Soviets keep 17,000 troops and technicians there with tanks and other armament.

The real point is the fear in the United States that the Russians have acquired a permanent military base next door to this country and are establishing the first colony in the Western Hemisphere that any European government has founded since the Monroe Doctrine was proclaimed in 1823.

These are not partisan matters. Democrats as well as Republicans have been prodding the President for more information. The result has been constructive. Mr. Kennedy now has resolutely begun to press for a clarification of purpose from Mr. Khrushchev.

APART from all the photographic proofs of dismantled bases and all the talk about offensive and defensive weapons, it is realistic to note that photos cannot be made from the air at night or in bad weather, and that at any moment an irresponsible Castro can shoot down our planes.

Nobody should be under any illusion that President Kennedy himself hasn't thought about this. When the President was asked at his news conference whether defensive weapons fired from a patrol boat — Komar missiles, for instance — could become offensive, he answered in the negative, and then added:

"If there is going to be that kind of an attack on the United States, then you're going to have them with much larger weapons than a Komar torpedo boat can carry. Then you are talking about the willingness of the Soviet Union to begin a major war.

"Now if the Soviet Union is prepared to begin a major war, which will result in hundreds of millions of casualties by the time it is finished, then, of course, we all face a situation which is extremely grave.

"I do not believe that that is what the Soviet Union wants, because I think they have other interests. I think they wish to seize power, but I don't think they wish to do so by war. I therefore doubt if a Komar torpedo boat is going to attack the United States very soon.

"Now it is possible — it is possible — everything is possible. And after our experience last fall we operate on the assumption, while hoping for the best, we expect the worst. It is very possible that the worst will come, and we should prepare for it. That is why we continue our daily surveillance. It is possible, conceivable.

"We cannot prove that there is not a missile in a cave or that the Soviet Union isn't going to ship some next week. We prepare for that. But we will find them when they do, and when they do, the Soviet Union and Cuba and the United States must all be aware that this will produce the greatest crisis which the world has faced in its history. So I think the Soviet Union will proceed with caution and care, and I think we should."

MOSCOW MAY perceive in these lines an opportunity to set the record straight and chart a different course.

The President has made his position plain, and the critics, too, have made their points. Mr. Kennedy spoke at his last news conference not in the manner of the politician but with the natural sincerity of a president of the United States who has become conscious of an overwhelming responsibility to deal firmly with the presence of Soviet troops and armament in Cuba.

Kennedy Baffled

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The Russians and his critics are baffling President Kennedy. He can't get the Russians out of Cuba and he can't get the critics to shut up about it.

This can get worse before it gets better if the Russians put their mind to it and find more places to put more troops, which would be playing tit-for-tat with the United States, a game this country hasn't liked so far.

The Republicans gibed at Kennedy toward the end of his first year in office after he had spent most of his time hopping from one serious foreign problem to another.

Kennedy, who seems to be imitating former President Eisenhower in not trying to take the skin off his critics personally, sort of rolled with the punches and kept his popularity high, as Eisenhower did. Kennedy got some more last year.

Now once again the Republicans and some Democrats, are on Kennedy's back, this time about the presence of the Soviet troops in Cuba.

Monday Republican leaders in Congress teamed up to denounce the administration's conduct of foreign affairs, claiming it is causing anti-Americanism abroad.

Kennedy, beginning to show more sensitivity to attacks although not enough yet to do any real fighting, hit at his critics indirectly last week through Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara in a way unparalled in American history.

He put McNamara and an aide on television for two hours, complete with photographs of Cuba, to tell the public the Soviet troops and weapons there were not, at least now, a direct threat to any area in the Western Hemisphere.

It didn't quiet the critics. Now —particularly the Republicans— they're making more noise than ever. This leaves Kennedy with an exasperating question:

"If I can't convince people of what I say after this performance, how can I do it?"

One way might be to go to the people and after the critics himself. A head-on brawl, however, seems contrary to his political philosophy, although he may come to it if he feels he's being made a political punching bag.

Meanwhile the critics, clamoring for the removal of the Russians from Fidel Castro's feudal island, are a little short on solutions themselves.

An American invasion would be the very surest way to eliminate the Russians from it. But no one is suggesting that. They're on Castro's island with his approval, and any attack on them would probably mean war with Russia.

Kennedy was willing to risk war to force the Russian missiles out of Cuba last fall because, he said, they were a total menace. But a war would hardly be justified to get rid of troops who, he says, are not a menace.

About the best he can do is dicker with Premier Khrushchev who may be keeping his troops in Cuba in order to force Kennedy to dicker.

'Polar Bear' Camp

Scouts Prove Hardiness

Who says American youth aren't physically fit?

In observance of Boy Scout week, the hardy members of Troop 42 sponsored by Glenmoor American Legion post 736 are spending a week camping out at the intersection of Route 267 and the Y. & O. Rd.

Two or three members of the troop take turns each night sleeping in the tents in the "polar bear" camping, which will end Thursday.

The winter camp opened last Thursday and none of the members anticipated tropical weather. But even they were surprised when they arose Friday morning to find the thermometer had plunged to 10 below zero, Scoutmaster William G. Moore said.

The scouts have been in good spirits in relating their experiences, such as finding a carton of chocolate milk frozen Saturday morning and a radio whose batteries apparently had gone dead.

One member of the troop suggested they form a "polar bear" club and participate in a similar experience next year. Another told of the catcalls and jeers from passing autos.

" 'What's the matter with you kids? You nuts?' they call," the scouts said.

The troop will get another dose of winter camping Feb. 22-24 when they camp at the Presbyterian Church camp near Grimm's Bridge.

But the boys also are looking forward to regular camp July 7-14.

The 13-year-old troop now has 19 members. Boys interested in joining may contact Moore at FU 6-5887. Joe Arcuragi is the assistant scoutmaster. The troop meets each Wednesday at 7 p. m. at the Legion home.

Water Crew Fixes Street After Break

A water crew worked this morning to complete repairs to St. Clair Ave. after repairing a broken 6-inch main and then expected to move its equipment to Ray St. where a frozen line has left seven homes without water.

The section of St. Clair between Orchard Grove and McKinnon Aves. probably will remain closed to traffic all day while concrete caps on two excavations harden, Donald T. Duke, water superintendent, said.

The line crew worked all day Sunday and Monday hunting the elusive leak and made one excavation in the downhill lane and another about in the center of the street.

When the break finally was pinpointed yesterday, crews found the main had snapped and installed a repair clamp to close it.

The break first was noticed Friday but because it didn't appear to be serious the job was by-passed to allow the crew to thaw a frozen line on Center St. in Beechwood where two homes were without water, Duke said.

At the St. Clair site, however, water forced its way under the pavement and heaved up a section. Because of icing conditions, the city closed the block - long section to traffic on Saturday.

Residents of the Ray St. homes have been securing water from a spigot attached to a fire hydrant since the blockage developed, Duke said.

Because of icy conditions, the department was unable to get its equipment to the site, he said.

After clearing the Beechwood line on Friday, crews were called out Saturday to repair a broken main at Walnut St. and Bradshaw Ave.

The broken and frozen mains are the result of the severe cold weather, Duke said, explaining the ground is frozen much deeper than normal.

The frozen ground also has hampered crews in excavating to reach the lines. Normally, it takes only a few hours to dig through to the main but the frozen ground has required more than a day to reach the same depth, the superintendent said.

Crews have been required to use an air compressor all the way to break up the dirt into solid chunks.

Boron® with Ice-gard®

gives you positive protection against fuel line freeze-up in any Ohio weather!

Fuel line freeze-up is one of winter's worst driving problems. In freezing weather, water condensed from the air in your gas tank can settle in your fuel line and freeze solid. Gasoline can't get from your tank to your engine. You stop cold! Chances are you'll have to call for a tow truck!

Boron with Ice-gard stops fuel line freeze-up before it stops you! The special Ice-gard ingredient lowers the freezing point of water. Ice can't form so fuel flows freely. Your first tankful of Boron with Ice-gard protects you against a frozen fuel line. And continuous use gives you positive protection even in Ohio's coldest weather.

For years, drivers have protected themselves against a frozen fuel line by adding anti-icers to their gas tanks. Regular use of Boron with Ice-gard makes this unnecessary.

Remember, Boron also has a special Carburetor Cleaner that cleans your carburetor while you drive and keeps it clean. You get both Carburetor Cleaner and Ice-gard in Boron — both at no extra cost!

Boron with Ice-gard eliminates the need to add anti-icers to your gas tank!

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Howdy! Have you ever been in a hurry to replace an ice tray in the refrigerator — especially the type with the plastic inserts—and find that the ice tray divider is in backwards?

What I am talking about is the kind which is more slanted on one end than on the other.

Why they don't make both ends alike I'll never know!

Well . . . I've found the answer, gals. Just take a dab of finger nail polish and put a dot on one end of the plastic insert and put another dot on the matching end of the aluminum tray. This way, whether you are in a hurry or not, all you have to do is just see that the two red dots are on one end. Real tricky, eh?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I keep some ordinary baking soda in a large jar with a piece of old bird's eye diaper.

When it rains, just dampen the cloth and put gobs of baking soda on it and wipe the automobile windows inside and out. The rain won't stay on the windshield and it acts as if it were true magic!

DEAR HELOISE: Can anyone tell us what to do with powdered sugar that is hard and lumpy?

PORT ARTHUR.

Cold Weather Tip

DEAR HELOISE: The chore of hanging out the family wash in cold weather will be lessened if you make use of lots of coat hangers.

While still in your nice warm house, put your diapers, tea towels, and so forth on the clothes hangers. Then put the hangers on the clothes line! (Pin the clothes to the hangers with clothes pins before going outside and they won't blow off!)

This idea is good for hankies and socks and all of the little things.

EILEEN FORTNEY.

DEAR HELOISE: I have found that a cloth dipped in furniture oil will wipe off crayon marks from wood work. Then just wash the surface with soap and water.

HELEN DOUGLAS.

Kid Party Idea

DEAR HELOISE: When having a party for children and you have clear sliding glass doors in your house, you can use balloons and tape them to the glass doors.

This prevents the children from walking through the glass . . . which can be mighty dangerous. The balloons are decorative, too.

Ladies, do you know that balloons (after they are blown up) can be rubbed on anything wool, such as a wool rug or skirt or slacks, and static electricity will be generated? The balloons will then stick to ceilings or walls for a party!

'Tis so . . . we do it every year and the children love it. Besides, it saves the mess of cleaning up glue, etc., later.

'Master Plan' Study Pushed

Councilmen and members of the Board of Directors of the Junior Chamber of Commerce conferred Monday night on a proposal to hire an engineering concern to draft a "master plan" to guide future growth and development of East Liverpool.

Willshaw, chairman of the finance committee, said part of the discussion centered on a request for the city to provide $10,000 as its share of the cost of the plan's preparation. The city has been promised the federal government will pay two-thirds of the cost.

The City Planning Commission approved a formal recommendation Jan. 28 that Council provide the $10,000 for the city's share. At its meeting Feb. 4, Council referred the request to the finance committee.

Willshaw said the Jaycees also discussed a program they propose to educate the public to the need for planning and the purposes it would accomplish in recommending improvements that could be financed to a large extent by federal funds.

Jaycees said they expect to begin the educational program shortly, distributing brochures and publishing advertisements.

The deadline for applications was midnight Monday and there may be some more applications in today's mail but it is doubtful, Grafton said.

In all probability, the examinations will be graded the same night they are given.

There are no vacancies on either department. The commission includes R. F. Wilk, chairman, E. M. Welch, and L. B. Kochert.

Good thing there's with 100% Cumuloft® Nylon pile

Wedgefield by Wunda Weve

All gone and not a trace. No wonder our young tiger looks surprised. But Mom isn't. Like most moms she knows that nylon and only nylon has the strength and stamina to stand up to soily and surly situations.

Carpets of Cumuloft nylon pile carry these advantages many steps farther. Cumuloft is 100% continuous filament nylon. No short weak strands in the carpet pile to break or pull loose. This is important when you consider that carpeting is the most used (and abused) furnishing in your home. Worried about: Soil. Liquids. Stains. Moths. Mildew? Don't! Carpets of Cumuloft nylon endure.

And carpets of Cumuloft endear. Soft, lush pile remains resilient and luxurious . . . colors stay clear and brilliant.

All gone and not a trace. No wonder our young tiger looks surprised. But Mom isn't. Like most moms she knows that nylon and only nylon has the strength and stamina to stand up to soily and surly situations.

Carpets of Cumuloft nylon pile carry these advantages many steps farther. Cumuloft is 100% continuous filament nylon. No short weak strands in the carpet pile to break or pull loose. This is important when you consider that carpeting is the most used (and abused) furnishing in your home. Worried about: Soil. Liquids. Stains. Moths. Mildew? Don't! Carpets of Cumuloft nylon endure.

And carpets of Cumuloft endear. Soft, lush pile remains resilient and luxurious . . . colors stay clear and brilliant.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Your advice is fairly good most of the time but you are wrong once in awhile. Recently you told a mother not to put curlers in her son's hair because children who are treated like members of the opposite sex sometimes develop homosexual tendencies.

I would like you to know that I've been putting curlers in my son's hair since he was 3 years of age. He is 8 now and just loves to go to the beauty shop with me. When I make an appointment for myself I make one for him, too.

I'll have you know that my son is all boy. He's not a roughneck but he's no sissy either. He likes model airplanes and ships and never misses a war story on TV. He also enjoys masculine sports and even plays on the Little League baseball team.

So, you see, Ann Landers, you don't know everything. — A MOTHER WHO IS RAISING AN ALL-AMERICAN BOY.

Dear Mother: You're right. I don't know everything. But I do know that an 8-year-old son should not be sitting under the dryer in the beauty shop next to his mother.

If this All-American boy of yours goes to Little League practice with curlers in his hair you'd better teach him how to fight.

This Trip Necessary

Dear Ann: My wife's mother is dying of cancer. The doctors say she can't live more than a few weeks. My wife is taking it awfully hard. Her mother lives 2000 miles from here and the trip would be expensive.

Her sister has written that their mother is under heavy sedation and sometimes she doesn't recognize members of the family. She has suggested that my wife not come now, but wait till the funeral. My wife agrees this would be best.

Frankly, I don't think my wife should go now or to the funeral. She is a nervous person anyway and this ordeal would make a wreck out of her.

Furthermore, our children are small and I would have to arrange with the neighbors to take the baby when I am at work. It would also mean that I'd be doing the laundry and cooking.

Wouldn't it be more sensible to use the trip money on something we need? We need plenty. What is your advice? — SPOKANE DAD.

Dear Dad: I don't know what you "need" but there are mighty few things as important as sending your wife to her mother's funeral.

If you deny her this trip because you think it would be more sensible to spend the money on something else, you'll regret it.

Mother To Sister

Dear Ann: I'm 17 and live with my father and stepmother. I don't mind working around the house—in fact, every girl should do her share—but I don't think it's fair that I have full responsibility for my 4-year-old stepsister, Betsy.

If I want to go anywhere after school or on Saturday or Sunday I have to take my little stepsister along. My stepmother says she is cooped up all day and needs some relief. I hate to plan for a date on weekends because if my folks decide to go out I have to cancel my plans and stay home with Betsy.

If you say I'm wrong I will change my thinking and never complain again. I'd appreciate your answer in the paper.—MOTHER TO MY SISTER.

Dear Mother to Your Sister: An older sister should help with the younger children. It's part of being a useful, contributing member of the family. But "help" does not mean full responsibility.

You should not be expected to take the little girl with you after school nor should you be asked to cancel weekend dates to stay at home with her. In an emergency, teen-agers should be willing to make sacrifices, but every weekend can't be an emergency.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For her work, she receives the equivalent of $180 in local currency plus a $75 deposit in the United States.

She has been to a Saturday night dance in the village but just looked, did not dance. "I was told it was not recommended for a single, white girl."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Your advice is fairly good most of the time but you are wrong once in awhile. Recently you told a mother not to put curlers in her son's hair because children who are treated like members of the opposite sex sometimes develop homosexual tendencies.

I would like you to know that I've been putting curlers in my son's hair since he was 3 years of age. He is 8 now and just loves to go to the beauty shop with me. When I make an appointment for myself I make one for him, too.

I'll have you know that my son is all boy. He's not a roughneck but he's no sissy either. He likes model airplanes and ships and never misses a war story on TV. He also enjoys masculine sports and even plays on the Little League baseball team.

So, you see, Ann Landers, you don't know everything. — A MOTHER WHO IS RAISING AN ALL-AMERICAN BOY.

Dear Mother: You're right. I don't know everything. But I do know that an 8-year-old son should not be sitting under the dryer in the beauty shop next to his mother.

If this All-American boy of yours goes to Little League practice with curlers in his hair you'd better teach him how to fight.

This Trip Necessary

Dear Ann: My wife's mother is dying of cancer. The doctors say she can't live more than a few weeks. My wife is taking it awfully hard. Her mother lives 2000 miles from here and the trip would be expensive.

Her sister has written that their mother is under heavy sedation and sometimes she doesn't recognize members of the family. She has suggested that my wife not come now, but wait till the funeral. My wife agrees this would be best.

Frankly, I don't think my wife should go now or to the funeral. She is a nervous person anyway and this ordeal would make a wreck out of her.

Furthermore, our children are small and I would have to arrange with the neighbors to take the baby when I am at work. It would also mean that I'd be doing the laundry and cooking.

Wouldn't it be more sensible to use the trip money on something we need? We need plenty. What is your advice? — SPOKANE DAD.

Dear Dad: I don't know what you "need" but there are mighty few things as important as sending your wife to her mother's funeral.

If you deny her this trip because you think it would be more sensible to spend the money on something else, you'll regret it.

Mother To Sister

Dear Ann: I'm 17 and live with my father and stepmother. I don't mind working around the house—in fact, every girl should do her share—but I don't think it's fair that I have full responsibility for my 4-year-old stepsister, Betsy.

If I want to go anywhere after school or on Saturday or Sunday I have to take my little stepsister along. My stepmother says she is cooped up all day and needs some relief. I hate to plan for a date on weekends because if my folks decide to go out I have to cancel my plans and stay home with Betsy.

If you say I'm wrong I will change my thinking and never complain again. I'd appreciate your answer in the paper.—MOTHER TO MY SISTER.

Dear Mother to Your Sister: An older sister should help with the younger children. It's part of being a useful, contributing member of the family. But "help" does not mean full responsibility.

You should not be expected to take the little girl with you after school nor should you be asked to cancel weekend dates to stay at home with her. In an emergency, teen-agers should be willing to make sacrifices, but every weekend can't be an emergency.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

ter's degree in African history from John Hopkins University in 1962 and joined the Peace Corps immediately after "to deepen my knowledge of Africa and profit from the travel opportunity."

For her work, she receives the equivalent of $180 in local currency plus a $75 deposit in the United States.

She cooks and shops herself, but like all teachers at the school—most of them French—she has a houseboy to clean and wash the dishes.

After classes, she helps students with English.

"They come to me all the time. I am more pleased with the progress they're making than I ever was with my students in the States."

She has been to a Saturday night dance in the village but just looked, did not dance. "I was told it was not recommended for a single, white girl."

Board Fills Post Of Band Director

A band director for the system and a custodian for Garfield School were hired by the Wellsville Board of Education Monday night.

Joseph M. Kaba of Sharon was employed as band director for the balance of the year at a salary of $1,845.44.

It was explained that Mrs. Alyce Ann McDevitt, who was hired at the October session, is planning on resigning for maternity reasons.

MRS. McDEVITT was hired for the balance of the school year to succeed Theodore Koenig, who resigned effective Nov. 15.

Supt. Lowell Myers explained that Mrs. McDevitt will attempt to remain to aid with the band for upcoming contests.

Kaba, who attended Youngstown University, will begin his duties Wednesday. He will start working with the elementary students. He has an extensive background of working with area high school bands while attending college.

Charles O'Hara, 1744 Buckeye Ave., was employed as the custodian at Garfield at a salary of $3,900 a year. He will succeed Richard Powell, whose resignation was accepted last night. Powell, who was hired in December, did not give any reason for resigning in his letter to Myers.

THE BOARD discussed a survey started of custodial duties in the system. Charles Glass and Earl Bake, board members, said they had received complaints from the custodians that the survey is taking up much of their time.

The survey had been discussed at previous meetings. William Ferrall, president, said he believes the survey is a good idea as it is designed to show exactly how much work, such as room area, hallways, windows, etc., that each man is responsible for.

It was pointed out that some of the custodians were taking exact measurements of the rooms. Myers said he will notify the custodians that this is not what is needed and will explain what the board wants.

The board also discussed a new ruling that custodians no longer are employed under Civil Service. They said this will have no effect on the men already in the system. The change will effect the way new men will be selected.

NEW MEN will not be hired on the basis of a Civil Service examination. Members said they informed those who asked that their positions "are as secure as ever."

Mrs. Ruthella Kerr, a high school instructor, was authorized to attend the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics session at Pittsburgh April 5-6. Her meals and traveling expenses will be paid.

Myers said no adult education classes are planned as not enough persons were interested. Classes had been planned in typing and other subjects if enough applications were received.

He said he would make a recommendation later on the purchase of tapes for the language laboratory.

He also pointed out March 26 will be Columbiana County Day at the Ohio Education Association headquarters in Columbus. The program will begin at 10 a. m. and is for representatives from all systems in the county.

MYERS reported on attending a meeting of city superintendents at Columbus. After his report, the board adopted a resolution opposing House Bill 234 which would give county, city and exempted village boards the authority to levy up to one per cent income tax, with a 51 per cent voter approval. The first hearing on the bill is Wednesday at 10 a. m. before the House Taxation Committee.

Ferrall commented he is pleased with the sportsmanship being shown by the student body at basketball games.

A discussion was held on replacing the floor of the gymnasium. Specialists in the installation of this type floor will be contacted to offer bids.

Richard Grills, board member, suggested local business and professional men be invited to speak to high school seniors about their professions as part of a vocational guidance program.

Myers said such a program may be worked into a counseling program being planned for the system.

A LETTER WAS received from Angelo Luckino of Wellsville, an agent for Motorist Mutual Insurance Co., asking his firm be considered for a share in the school fire insurance. The letter was filed and will be referred to when it is time to renew the insurance.

The board also adopted several revisions to a 62-page Board Policy book approved earlier.

The change concerns admission to first grade and kindergarten. Under the revision a child who will be 5 between Sept. 16 and Dec. 31, inclusive, will be permitted to take a psychological examination to determine whether the child can enter kindergarten and a child who will be 6 during this period also will be given an examination, if the parent desires, to determine if the child can enter first grade. The cost of $8 for the exam will be paid by the parents, who must register with the superintendent's office before Aug. 15 of the given year so the testing schedule can be made.

AN EXPLANATION was made of pupil make-up work and it was agreed that the superintendent shall approve all field trips and bus trips for students.

Parent consultation with teachers is to be arranged by the building principal under another revision. Another calls for the teachers to be in their buildings five minutes before the student entrance bell both in the morning and afternoon.

Suggestions were included for substitute teachers and the principals are designated to determine if school property can be borrowed by outside groups.

Earl Mundy, supervisor of custodians and maintenance, made his monthly report. A discussion was held on the small tractor mower used at Nicholson Stadium. The board agreed to have it checked to determine if it will be better to have it repaired or purchase a new machine.

RAYMOND Rolley, clerk, was authorized to borrow up to $12,000 if the state foundation check does not arrive in time to meet bills. He reported the state examiner now is checking his books.

Russell Dysert, board member, was absent.

The state treasurer received $1,169.20 for its 45 per cent of the patrol fines.

The woman told officers she tried to stop her car by applying both the foot and emergency brakes but was unable to halt because the engine was racing.

Myers said no adult education classes are planned as not enough persons were interested. Classes had been planned in typing and other subjects if enough applications were received.

He said he would make a recommendation later on the purchase of tapes for the language laboratory.

He also pointed out March 26 will be Columbiana County Day at the Ohio Education Association headquarters in Columbus. The program will begin at 10 a. m. and is for representatives from all systems in the county.

MYERS reported on attending a meeting of city superintendents at Columbus. After his report, the board adopted a resolution opposing House Bill 234 which would give county, city and exempted village boards the authority to levy up to one per cent income tax, with a 51 per cent voter approval. The first hearing on the bill is Wednesday at 10 a. m. before the House Taxation Committee.

A discussion was held on replacing the floor of the gymnasium. Specialists in the installation of this type floor will be contacted to offer bids.

Richard Grills, board member, suggested local business and professional men be invited to speak to high school seniors about their professions as part of a vocational guidance program.

Myers said such a program may be worked into a counseling program being planned for the system.

A LETTER WAS received from Angelo Luckino of Wellsville, an agent for Motorist Mutual Insurance Co., asking his firm be considered for a share in the school fire insurance. The letter was filed and will be referred to when it is time to renew the insurance.

The board also adopted several revisions to a 62-page Board Policy book approved earlier.

The change concerns admission to first grade and kindergarten. Under the revision a child who will be 5 between Sept. 16 and Dec. 31, inclusive, will be permitted to take a psychological examination to determine whether the child can enter kindergarten and a child who will be 6 during this period also will be given an examination, if the parent desires, to determine if the child can enter first grade. The cost of $8 for the exam will be paid by the parents, who must register with the superintendent's office before Aug. 15 of the given year so the testing schedule can be made.

AN EXPLANATION was made of pupil make-up work and it was agreed that the superintendent shall approve all field trips and bus trips for students.

Parent consultation with teachers is to be arranged by the building principal under another revision. Another calls for the teachers to be in their buildings five minutes before the student entrance bell both in the morning and afternoon.

Suggestions were included for substitute teachers and the principals are designated to determine if school property can be borrowed by outside groups.

Earl Mundy, supervisor of custodians and maintenance, made his monthly report. A discussion was held on the small tractor mower used at Nicholson Stadium. The board agreed to have it checked to determine if it will be better to have it repaired or purchase a new machine.

RAYMOND Rolley, clerk, was authorized to borrow up to $12,000 if the state foundation check does not arrive in time to meet bills. He reported the state examiner now is checking his books.

Russell Dysert, board member, was absent.

Beaver Local Board Lets 2 Bus Contracts

Tentative awarding of contracts for two new 66-passenger school buses for Beaver Local School District was authorized by the Board of Education for the Columbiana Motors Co. of Columbiana and the Lewis Chevrolet Co. of Lisbon Monday night.

Lewis bid $7,212, including $200 trade-in on an older bus for a Chevrolet with a Thomas body and Columbiana Motors bid $7,174 on a Chevrolet with a Superior body, including $100 trade-in on an older bus. The new buses include a larger motor than previous vehicles.

Other bidders were Mike Turk of East Liverpool, $7,091 for a bus with a smaller motor; O. S. Hill Co. of Lisbon, $6,890 for a bus with lighter springs and axle requirements; Wimmer Motor Sales of East Liverpool, $7,328, and Midway Motors of Route 7, $7,340.

The bids will be forwarded to the State Department of Education for final approval.

The board authorized the use of a comparative teaching unit on communism in the high school Problems of Democracy Class the last six weeks of this term.

The unit will follow previous U. S. history and government courses, George VanHorne, executive head, said, and is part of the course authorized by the county school program.

In other action, the board authorized a formal request to the Columbiana County Health Department for physical examinations for pre-school youngsters.

The county department has requested private physicians be utilized for student examinations, but VanHorne said the district has very few doctors and the annual examination has been especially beneficial to the overall student group and the school health program.

Upon the recommendation of the Beaver Local Education Association and the school administration, the board authorized a request for the Ohio Education Association to provide a survey of teacher salary schedules in the district without cost.

The purchase of a $544 rebuilt food mixer for the Public School cafeteria was authorized by the board. A new mixer would have cost $1,300.

The board approved the use of the high school gym by the Boosters Club for the annual fair in June, with the recommendation that the multi-purpose room be utilized in the event the display space is less than anticipated. Board members said the gym floor would then be spared unnecessary wear.

The board also approved use of the Public School for a square dance March 9 sponsored by the Glenmoor-Calcutta Ruritan Club and for square dances March 15 and April 5 by the Elkton Boy Scouts.

A special meeting will be held Feb. 25 to disuss cafeteria problems and bids for a new work truck, to replace the present pick-up truck.

Calvary Methodists Honor Two

The Rev. Irwin Jennings, pastor of the Calvary Methodist Church, presents the God and Country award to Wayne Boley of Boy Scout Troop 38 and Mike Silliman of Boy Scout Troop 43, who received the award looks on.

The two received the award during morning worship Sunday in observance of Boy Scout Sunday.

Boley, 20, a 1960 graduate of East Liverpool High School is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Boley of Wellsville R. D. He is a member of the Pentecostal Church on the Y. & O. Rd. He is assistant scoutmaster of his troop, which is sponsored by the Calvary church. Charles Wright is scoutmaster.

Silliman, 15, a freshman at Westgate Junior High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Silliman, 1851 Montana Ave. He is a member of the Calvary church and his troop is sponsored by the Pleasant Heights Parent - Teacher Association. Don Wolf is scoutmaster.

The two have been working towards the award for approximately two and half years under the direction of the Rev. Jennings, and the Rev. Carl Beighley of Mineral Ridge, former pastor.

Their accomplishments included study of books of the Old and New Testaments and various work projects in the church.

New Safety Rules Proposed For 'Turn Lane' In East End

Climaxing an investigation that dates back to late 1962, the City Traffic Commission Monday night recommended new controls and safety rules to help eliminate hazards in a third lane on Pennsylvania Ave. that permits westbound motorists to turn onto Park Way.

W. Leland Thompson, a member of the commission who made a study of the intersection, recommended that the length of the "turn lane" be limited to approximately 275 feet east from the traffic signal at the intersection.

In addition, a medial strip or a double yellow line should be provided to prevent motorists turning from the center lane to the curb lane, he said.

The recommendations were given to Safety-Service Director Robert Owen at the commission's monthly meeting in City Hall. Also attending were W. C. Heasley, chairman, John Kelly, secretary, Don Burbick and Ray Wilson.

Thompson commented that one of the principal hazards now is created by the fact there is no definite starting place for the third lane as motorists approach Park Way, heading east. Wilson, who operates a service station near the corner, said some motorists pull into the curb lane far to the east of the intersection.

Wilson commented that the police department has been attempting to control use of the third lane for the last several weeks — ever since the hazards of the stretch were pointed out by the commission. By parking a police cruiser near the curb, officers prevented motorists from swinging into the third lane too far to the east, he said. The most dangerous time for traffic and pedestrians is between 2 and 5 p. m., he said.

Owen told the commission he may be able to obtain plastic material for marking off the double line between the two lanes. Plastic is more durable than paint, which has only a brief life, he said. In addition, street lines cannot be painted properly in wet weather, the director said.

"The third lane already has been established in that area; it's only a question of controls and marking," Owen told the commission.

Thompson recommended establishment of a five-minute limit on one or more parking meters on the west side of Broadway as a convenience for motorists wishing to make brief stops at the Post Office.

He conceded there are one or two 15-minute limit meters on the east side of Broadway near the Post Office, but he said more are needed. Some drivers now "take a chance" of being ticketed when parking at the 15-minute meters, remaining as long as a half hour, he said.

Joseph Coons of Park Way Ext. appeared before the commission to recommend a ban on parking on one side of McKinnon Ave. between Anderson Blvd. and St. Clair Ave. The restriction is needed because of the heavy traffic through the residential district, Coons said. No action was taken.

Owen said he has been given several recommendations for installation of a stainless steel "mirror" on Pennsylvania Ave. to give a better view of oncoming traffic to motorists pulling onto the thoroughfare from Vine St. The mirror would allow drivers on the side street to see traffic moving west on Pennsylvania Ave., he said.

Next meeting is Monday, March 11, at 8 p. m.

Wisconsin Hands Illinois First Setback In Big Ten Play, 84-77

Kentucky Upended By Miss. State

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

Before the start of the college basketball season, Coach Harry Combes of Illinois optimistically declared, "We're shooting for the Big Ten title, and nothing less than a 14-0 mark will please me."

After Monday night, Combes is destined to spend the next five weeks displeased, even if the Illini, fourth-ranked nationally, manage to wrap up the school's first conference title in 11 years.

Wisconsin's underrated Badgers saw to that by handing the Illini their first league defeat, 84-77 at Madison, Wis. The upset left Illinois with a 14-3 record over-all, 6-1 within the Big Ten.

Only two other members of the Top Ten were in action Monday night. Mississippi State's Maroons, No. 6, turned back Kentucky 56-52 on their home floor and took a commanding edge in the Southeastern Conference race. Seventh-ranked Colorado bolstered its Big Eight lead with a 71-60 victory over Oklahoma at Boulder.

Wisconsin, now 3-4 in the Big Ten, utilized a zone defense in the first half and a stall in the second half to thwart Illinois.

Minnesota's hopes of catching Illinois were jolted by Indiana, 89-77, at Bloomington. The Gophers suffered their third league defeat against five victories.

Oklahoma State moved into sole possession of second place in the Big Eight, a game behind Colorado, with a 54-53 verdict at Kansas.

In other games Iowa State won at Nebraska 75-54; Wichita romped at home, walloping Drake 73-49; Oklahoma City proved a rude host to North Texas 82-69; Maryland won at South Carolina 51-44, Mississippi posted a 85-78 home floor victory over Tennessee and Furman defeated Virginia Military 91-85 at Greenville, S.C.

Elsewhere — Alabama won at Georgia 61-59; Auburn scored at home over Florida, 88-59; William and Mary routed East Carolina 81-66 at Williamsburg, Va.; Memphis State topped visiting Louisville 76-55; Detroit edged invading Iona 61-58; Xavier of Ohio was a home court winner against Miami of Ohio 59-57; Seton Hall posted a 99-83 decision at Scranton; Morehead State was a 90-86 victor at home over Murray State; and host Washington State beat Montana 74-63.

Hancock Fans To Help Pick Sport Greats

Hancock County sports enthusiasts have been given an opportunity to name 28 Hancock "sport greats" to be honored with other West Virginia sports figures in a Centennial fete at Charleston in April.

Some 1,963 West Virginians who have made outstanding contributions to sports in the past century will be honored at a banquet April 6 at Charleston's Civic Center.

The Hancock County contingent will be honored at a prior dinner according to plans being made by Hancock Lions Club who, with Lions Clubs throughout the state, are sponsoring the "Sports Greats" program.

Emory Derthick of Weirton is the Hancock chairman, aided by presidents of the four county Lions Clubs.

Charles Mansfield, president of the Chester club, said area residents are urged to send in their nominations for the county sports figures — former or present players, coaches, trainers, other sports figures, living or dead, including sports editors or broadcasters.

Eligible for nomination is any male or female born in West Virginia or living in the state ten years prior to or during his or her sports achievement.

Deadline on mailing the nominations is Feb. 15.

Nominations should include the name of the sports figure, the present address if known, whether he or she is living or dead, his or her contribution to sports, the county of his or her greatest success, and the writer's name, address and telephone.

Nominations are to be mailed to Sports Greats, Box 6067, Charleston 2, W. Va.

Middies, Bloomville Seen Teams To Beat In Tourney

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The long process of cutting Ohio's field of 445 Class A high school basketball teams down to the state tourney quartet has started — in Indiana.

Second round games in the Preble County eliminations were staged Monday night at Richmond, Ind., and some others are ready to get under way. All will be in tourney play next week.

Meanwhile 52 of the state's sports editors figured today that Middletown was the top Class AA club of that 471-team contingent, and that Bloomville of Seneca County was the quintet to beat in the smaller school race.

The two unbeaten powerhouses topped the Associated Press poll. The seven-time champion Middies have been alone at the peak all season, but Bloomville, tied a week ago with Columbus University, broke back in front today.

The poll places and current records sometimes mean little as the chips go down in the long grind toward the state meet. Of the 916 schools, 908 must fall by the wayside by the time the March 29-30 finals roll around.

Paint Valley of Ross County is a good illustration. The team has won five straight county league titles but has never won the qualifying tournament—and it starts this week.

Six of Martins Ferry's first 14 games went into overtime — one requiring nine extra sessions—and the Ferrians won five of 'em, losing only to strong Steubenville. Marion Harding, two games ahead of Mansfield with two to play, can wrap up the Buckeye Conference crown Friday by beating Findlay.

Red Ash says his Canton South team, beaten only by Canton McKinley on the Bulldog court, is a better club than the one he took the state meet in 1948.

Duane Miller of Dalton scored 42 in the 100-54 rout of Shreve for a 462 total and 29-point 16-game average. Mike Hyde, Wakeman Western Reserve's 6 - foot - 7 senior, leads the Lorain area with 410 points and a 27.3 average.

Paul Wyant, Leipsic's standout, scored 70 points last week in two losing games. He scored 29 in the 66-64 loss to Kalida, then poured in 41 as the Vikings bowed 68-67 to Holgate. Hyde of Wakeman also got 70 in two tilts—26 and 44—but his team won both. And John Schroeder of Norwalk had 25 and 29 in two starts for 376 and a 26.8 mark.

Portsmouth, 1-17 last year after winning the Class AA title the season before, is back up to 10-4 this season. Sophomore Larry Hisle of the Trojans has won two games by sinking a pair of free throws in the last two seconds.

Warren and Niles stage their 61st game Friday and it could be something. Niles nipped Steubenville 77-76 a couple of weeks ago, and the next night the Stubbers wrecked Warren 94-65, setting the stage for this one.

East Liverpool's Dean Cline averaged 24.4 for seven games in the Big Eight Conference. Denny Gallagher of Mount Gilead scored 46 Saturday as Cardington's non-winners dropped their 14th for a school record. The night before Gallagher was held to 10 as Mount Gilead lost to Mansfield St. Peters. But St. Peter's Milt Pitts counted 39 to hoist his average to 28.

Mansfield Madison had to wait 55 minutes before being awarded a 40-39 victory over Ashland. A last-gasp tip-in by 6-4 Bill Ward was the decider—but the officials had a tough time deciding whether it went in before or after the buzzer sounded.

Johnny Cabas has a 199-65 record for 13 years as Salem's coach —and hopes to hit the magic 200 this week. Marietta won the Central Ohio League title for the second straight time—but All - Ohio Bill Warden is out for the rest of the year with a twisted knee. Marietta St. Mary's 16-1 team is led by Jim Connelly with a 29-point average.

Amanda-Clearcreek upset Logan Elm Saturday, and the losers dropped from sixth to seventh in the Class A poll.

2 Indian Skiers Eye Spot On Olympic Team

OTTAWA, Ont. (AP) — Only a papoose sitter and 200 bucks stand between two Indians from Old Crow and a chance to make the Canadian Olympic skiing team.

Reports from the Far North Woods say the pair, one a 23-year-old mother of five little Indians, may be the fastest things on two skiis in all Canada.

If they can make their way to Ottawa from Old Crow, an Arctic Circle hamlet on the Porcupine River in the Yukon, by Thursday, they will get a chance to make the Olympic team.

"I'm not going to pooh pooh anything," said Frank Cooke, the selector of the cross-country Olympic team for the Canadian Amateur Ski Association.

Cooke said he had advised the coach of the two Indians, Ben Charlie and Martha Benjamin, that the pair will need a passage to Ottawa and $100 apiece. He will take care of them from here, he said. Martha is expected to leave the children at home.

Ben and Martha are from the Locheux tribe of the Vantakutchin (People of the Lakes) Indians, who take to skiing as soon as they leave the teepee.

An Oblate missionary known as Father Mouchet, a former Swiss Army ski instructor, has been coaching them for three years. He says their cross-country times are as good as any recorded in Canada.

One report has Ben doing 15 kilometers (about 9 miles) in 55.8 minutes, compared with the best time of 65.04 minutes for Canadian ace Antero Rauhanen over the same distrance.

Carry Back, now standing at Ocala Stud Farm in Florida, carries a stud fee of $6,500 for a live foal.

Russell's Board Mark Unofficial

NEW YORK (AP) — Officially, Bill Russell of the champion Boston Celtics ousted Dolph Schayes of the Syracuse Nationals as the all-time rebound leader in the National Basketball Association last week with a career total of 11,041 to 11,005.

Unofficially the veteran Schayes, now in his 15th NBA season, still leads. Why? Because no rebound records were kept in Schayes' first two seasons — 1948-49 and 1949-50. All of Russell's grabs have been officially recorded. He is in his seventh season with the NBA.

League statistics released today show Russell still second in rebounds for the current season with an average of 23.5 per game to 24.1 for Wilt Chamberlain of San Francisco. Chamberlain, now in his fourth NBA season, has a career total of 7,586 rebounds.

Chamberlain kept his usual No. 1 spot in scoring with 2,732 points although his average slipped from 46.0 to 45.5.

Wisconsin Hands Illinois First Setback In Big Ten Play, 84-77

The Review Sports

Kentucky Upended By Miss. State

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

Before the start of the college basketball season, Coach Harry Combes of Illinois optimistically declared, "We're shooting for the Big Ten title, and nothing less than a 14-0 mark will please me."

After Monday night, Combes is destined to spend the next five weeks displeased, even if the Illini, fourth-ranked nationally, manage to wrap up the school's first conference title in 11 years.

Wisconsin's underrated Badgers saw to that by handing the Illini their first league defeat, 84-77 at Madison, Wis. The upset left Illinois with a 14-3 record over-all, 6-1 within the Big Ten.

Only two other members of the Top Ten were in action Monday night. Mississippi State's Maroons, No. 6, turned back Kentucky 56-52 on their home floor and took a commanding edge in the Southeastern Conference race. Seventh-ranked Colorado bolstered its Big Eight lead with a 71-60 victory over Oklahoma at Boulder.

Wisconsin, now 3-4 in the Big Ten, utilized a zone defense in the first half and a stall in the second half to thwart Illinois.

Minnesota's hopes of catching Illinois were jolted by Indiana, 89-77, at Bloomington. The Gophers suffered their third league defeat against five victories.

Oklahoma State moved into sole possession of second place in the Big Eight, a game behind Colorado, with a 54-53 verdict at Kansas.

In other games Iowa State won at Nebraska 75-54; Wichita romped at home, walloping Drake 73-49; Oklahoma City proved a rude host to North Texas 82-69; Maryland won at South Carolina 51-44, Mississippi posted a 85-78 home floor victory over Tennessee and Furman defeated Virginia Military 91-85 at Greenville, S.C.

Elsewhere — Alabama won at Georgia 61-59; Auburn scored at home over Florida, 88-59; William and Mary routed East Carolina 81-66 at Williamsburg, Va.; Memphis State topped visiting Louisville 76-55; Detroit edged invading Iona 61-58; Xavier of Ohio was a home court winner against Miami of Ohio 59-57; Seton Hall posted a 99-83 decision at Scranton; Morehead State was a 90-86 victor at home over Murray State; and host Washington State beat Montana 74-63.

Hancock Fans To Help Pick Sport Greats

Hancock County sports enthusiasts have been given an opportunity to name 28 Hancock "sport greats" to be honored with other West Virginia sports figures in a Centennial fete at Charleston in April.

Some 1,963 West Virginians who have made outstanding contributions to sports in the past century will be honored at a banquet April 6 at Charleston's Civic Center.

The Hancock County contingent will be honored at a prior dinner according to plans being made by Hancock Lions Club who, with Lions Clubs throughout the state, are sponsoring the "Sports Greats" program.

Emory Derthick of Weirton is the Hancock chairman, aided by presidents of the four county Lions Clubs.

Charles Mansfield, president of the Chester club, said area residents are urged to send in their nominations for the county sports figures — former or present players, coaches, trainers, other sports figures, living or dead, including sports editors or broadcasters.

Eligible for nomination is any male or female born in West Virginia or living in the state ten years prior to or during his or her sports achievement.

Deadline on mailing the nominations is Feb. 15.

Nominations should include the name of the sports figure, the present address if known, whether he or she is living or dead, his or her contribution to sports, the county of his or her greatest success, and the writer's name, address and telephone.

Nominations are to be mailed to Sports Greats, Box 6067, Charleston 2, W. Va.

Russell's Board Mark Unofficial

NEW YORK (AP) — Officially, Bill Russell of the champion Boston Celtics ousted Dolph Schayes of the Syracuse Nationals as the all-time rebound leader in the National Basketball Association last week with a career total of 11,041 to 11,005.

Middies, Bloomville Seen Teams To Beat In Tourney

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The long process of cutting Ohio's field of 445 Class A high school basketball teams down to the state tourney quartet has started — in Indiana.

Second round games in the Preble County eliminations were staged Monday night at Richmond, Ind., and some others are ready to get under way. All will be in tourney play next week.

Meanwhile 52 of the state's sports editors figured today that Middletown was the top Class AA club of that 471-team contingent, and that Bloomville of Seneca County was the quintet to beat in the smaller school race.

The two unbeaten powerhouses topped the Associated Press poll. The seven-time champion Middies have been alone at the peak all season, but Bloomville, tied a week ago with Columbus University, broke back in front today.

The poll places and current records sometimes mean little as the chips go down in the long grind toward the state meet. Of the 916 schools, 908 must fall by the wayside by the time the March 29-30 finals roll around.

Paint Valley of Ross County is a good illustration. The team has won five straight county league titles but has never won the qualifying tournament—and it starts this week.

Six of Martins Ferry's first 14 games went into overtime — one requiring nine extra sessions—and the Ferrians won five of 'em, losing only to strong Steubenville. Marion Harding, two games ahead of Mansfield with two to play, can wrap up the Buckeye Conference crown Friday by beating Findlay.

Red Ash says his Canton South team, beaten only by Canton McKinley on the Bulldog court, is a better club than the one he took the state meet in 1948.

Duane Miller of Dalton scored 42 in the 100-54 rout of Shreve for a 462 total and 29-point 16-game average. Mike Hyde, Wakeman Western Reserve's 6 - foot - 7 senior, leads the Lorain area with 410 points and a 27.3 average.

Paul Wyant, Leipsic's standout, scored 70 points last week in two losing games. He scored 29 in the 66-64 loss to Kalida, then poured in 41 as the Vikings bowed 68-67 to Holgate. Hyde of Wakeman also got 70 in two tilts—26 and 44—but his team won both. And John Schroeder of Norwalk had 25 and 29 in two starts for 376 and a 26.8 mark.

Portsmouth, 1-17 last year after winning the Class AA title the season before, is back up to 10-4 this season. Sophomore Larry Hisle of the Trojans has won two games by sinking a pair of free throws in the last two seconds.

Warren and Niles stage their 61st game Friday and it could be something. Niles nipped Steubenville 77-76 a couple of weeks ago, and the next night the Stubbers wrecked Warren 94-65, setting the stage for this one.

East Liverpool's Dean Cline averaged 24.4 for seven games in the Big Eight Conference. Denny Gallagher of Mount Gilead scored 46 Saturday as Cardington's non-winners dropped their 14th for a school record. The night before Gallagher was held to 10 as Mount Gilead lost to Mansfield St. Peters. But St. Peter's Milt Pitts counted 39 to hoist his average to 28.

Mansfield Madison had to wait 55 minutes before being awarded a 40-39 victory over Ashland. A last-gasp tip-in by 6-4 Bill Ward was the decider—but the officials had a tough time deciding whether it went in before or after the buzzer sounded.

Johnny Cabas has a 199-65 record for 13 years as Salem's coach —and hopes to hit the magic 200 this week. Marietta won the Central Ohio League title for the second straight time—but All - Ohio Bill Warden is out for the rest of the year with a twisted knee. Marietta St. Mary's 16-1 team is led by Jim Connelly with a 29-point average.

Amanda-Clearcreek upset Logan Elm Saturday, and the losers dropped from sixth to seventh in the Class A poll.

2 Indian Skiers Eye Spot On Olympic Team

OTTAWA, Ont. (AP) — Only a papoose sitter and 200 bucks stand between two Indians from Old Crow and a chance to make the Canadian Olympic skiing team.

Reports from the Far North Woods say the pair, one a 23-year-old mother of five little Indians, may be the fastest things on two skiis in all Canada.

If they can make their way to Ottawa from Old Crow, an Arctic Circle hamlet on the Porcupine River in the Yukon, by Thursday, they will get a chance to make the Olympic team.

"I'm not going to pooh pooh anything," said Frank Cooke, the selector of the cross-country Olympic team for the Canadian Amateur Ski Association.

Cooke said he had advised the coach of the two Indians, Ben Charlie and Martha Benjamin, that the pair will need a passage to Ottawa and $100 apiece. He will take care of them from here, he said. Martha is expected to leave the children at home.

Ben and Martha are from the Locheux tribe of the Vantakutchin (People of the Lakes) Indians, who take to skiing as soon as they leave the teepee.

An Oblate missionary known as Father Mouchet, a former Swiss Army ski instructor, has been coaching them for three years. He says their cross-country times are as good as any recorded in Canada.

One report has Ben doing 15 kilometers (about 9 miles) in 55.8 minutes, compared with the best time of 65.04 minutes for Canadian ace Antero Rauhanen over the same distrance.

Carry Back, now standing at Ocala Stud Farm in Florida, carries a stud fee of $6,500 for a live foal.

Cage Fixer Faces 10-15 Year Term

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Molinas, a tall, handsome ex-basketball star who once reportedly boasted he'd never be implicated, faces a jail term of 10 to 15 years today for masterminding a $70,000 fix of college basketball games.

"In my opinion, you are a completely immoral person. You are the prime mover of the conspiracy and you were the person most responsible. You callously used your prestige as a former basketball star to corrupt college basketball players and to defraud the public," Judge Joseph A. Sarafite of State Supreme Court told Molinas, 30, in passing sentence Monday.

The sentencing of the 6-foot-6 former Columbia University star end Fort Wayne professional player, along with two confessed bribers, was hailed by Walter Byers, executive director of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

"We are indebted to the energies and efficiency of the law enforcement agencies of New York and appreciate of the attitude of the court itself," Byers said.

Sentenced with Molinas, who was convicted Jan. 8 on five counts of bribery, were Joseph Hacken, 42, of New York, and Philip LaCort, 39, of Boston. Hacken, described as Molinas' chief lieutenant in the plot to fix 43 games between 1957 and 1961, was sentenced to 7½ to eight years. LaCort, who pleaded guilty to fronting for a Boston gambling group, received 2½ to five years.

Aaron Wagman, 29, of New York, who had pleaded guilty to bribing nine players and making 37 bribe payoffs, received a suspended sentence of three to five years because he spent 23 months in jail as a material witness in testifying against Molinas. He also faces a five-to-10 year term on a Florida conviction for football fixing.

Five other former players, Lou Brown, Charles Tucker, Jerry Vogel, Dan Quindazzi, and Dave Budin, received suspended sentences after cooperating with Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan in his investigation.

Brown, who has moved from his Jersey City home to Greenville, N.C., formerly played at the University of North Carolina; Tucker, of Yonkers, N.Y., at Kalamazoo, Mich., College; Vogel and Quindazzi, both of Yonkers, N.Y., at the University of Alabama, and Budin at Brooklyn College.

Gordie Howe Takes NHL's Scoring Lead

MONTREAL (AP) — Veteran Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings has zoomed to the top of the scoring race in the National Hockey League.

Howe, playing his 17th NHL season, scored five points last week on two goals and three assists and jumped from fifth to first.

League statistics released today show Howe and Boston's Johnny Bucyk, the previous week's leader, each have 56 points. Officially, however, Howe is ranked first because he has scored 27 goals to 22 for Bucyk.

Jean Beliveau of Montreal is third with 55 points while Frank Mahovlich of Toronto, Stan Mikita of Chicago and Murray Oliver of Boston are tied for fourth at 54.

Oahu is the most populous island of the Hawaiian group.

Pros Will Try Again Today At Phoenix

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Depending on the weather, front-running Arnold Palmer could win his third straight Phoenix Open Golf Tournament with or without using his clubs.

Rain has forced cancelation of the $35,000 event's final 18 holes for two days in a row.

Tournament sponsors and the Professional Golfers Association were to decide this morning whether the Arizona Country Club's desert course was in condition to play and, if not, what to do about the final round.

The weatherman was cooperative, predicting the rain would let up today.

While waiting to check the course, PGA officials considered the possibility of keeping the tournament in Phoenix until conditions permit playing of the final round.

The PGA has a contract to play in Tucson beginning with a pro-am tournament Wednesday. However, PGA traveling secretary Joe Black said Tucson may be asked if they would agree to mark time until the Phoenix tournament is completed.

Palmer took the lead in the Phoenix tourney, at 13-under-par 203, when he fired an eagle 4 on the 18th hole Saturday.

This left his two chief rivals, Gary Player and Jack Nicklaus, a stroke back at 204. They birdied No. 18 Saturday.

Ex-Bantam Champ Fit At 74 Challenges Society To Race

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Johnny Coulon, world bantamweight boxing champion from 1908 to 1914, reached his 74th birthday today and challenged the Washington walking society to a 50-mile hike.

The frisky, effervescent little man is a classic example of what a physical fitness program followed through life can mean to a senior citizen.

"I see where (Attorney General) Bobby Kennedy walked 50 miles in 17 hours," said Coulon, a rabid Democrat. "He's half my age and apparently in wonderful shape. But I would like for him to call me up and say: 'John, how would you like to walk 50 miles with me?' Bet I could do it in less than 17 hours."

Coulon, known as the Chicago Spider in his fighting days, and his tiny, sparkling Irish wife, Marie, have operated a tidy gym on Chicago's South Side for 40 years. Johnny is the instructor. Maria is the matchmaker. She has made well over 25,000 matches, amateur and professional.

"I don't think much of a crash physical fitness program," said Coulon. "It is something that should be practiced through life.

"Today, while everybody else is catching a cab to go two or three miles, I walk. And not to save money. During a day in the gym, I bounce around 10 to 12 miles giving instructions.

"We are having a little birthday party in the gym today. I'll get a cake. We can't get 74 candles on it because the fire commissioner said it would be too much of a hazard.

"Anyway, I have my own way of blowing out the candles we do have. I stand on my hands and blow them out upside-down. Try it sometime. It's good for the neck muscles."

Toronto-born Johnny — who helped teach such fighters as Tony Zale, Barney Ross and King Levinsky — always has worn the stamp of ruggedness despite his size. He stands 4-feet-11¾-inches and weighs 108 pounds, the same as in his fighting days.

Lausche Attacks Plan For Tax Reduction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans should beware of "this 1963 school of economists" who claim a tax cut without a reduction in federal spending will spur the economy, Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, says.

"We are primarily in need of tax reform aimed at producing a system of taxation which will restore incentives for investments and remove the present provisions deterring our economic growth," the senator added in a statement Monday.

8 Key Giants Are Unsigned; McCovey In

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Unsigned San Francisco Giants stars don't quite make up a baseball team—but they still make up a formidable array.

The "unsigned" club lost an outfielder Monday when Willie McCovey accepted a 1963 salary estimated at between $18,000 and $20,000 and including what club officials called a nice increase.

Eight key members of the National League champions still haven't come to terms. They are center fielder Willie Mays, first baseman Orlando Cepeda, pitchers Jack Sanford, Billy O'Dell, Juan Marichal and Don Larsen, outfielder Matty Alou and shortstop Jose Pagan.

Duke Snider and two other Los Angeles Dodgers came to terms Monday. The veteran outfielder signed his 16th contract with the Dodgers for an estimated $34,000, same salary he received last year. Catcher Johnny Roseboro and infielder Daryl Spencer also joined the Dodger fold.

The New York Yankees' advance camp got underway in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., with 38 players on hand. Manager Ralph Houk said that the first base scramble could prove interesting. Joe Pepitone and rookie Mike Hegan, both candidates for the job, took part in the drill.

Centennial Craft Will Visit Weirton

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia's centennial showboat "Omar", a soon-to-be refurbished and spruced-up Ohio River veteran, has 19 communities as its ports of call this summer.

The State Centennial Commission said tentative plans are for the old sternwheeler to visit Fairmont, Morgantown, Weirton, Wellsburg, Wheeling, Moundsville, New Martinsville, Sistersville, St. Marys, Parkersburg, Ravenswood, Point Pleasant, Winfield, St. Albans, Charleston, Montgomery, Huntington, Kenova and Dunbar.

The 28-year-old steam-powered craft was given to the state by the Ohio River Co. in 1961. For many years it was used to tow coal barges between Huntington and Cincinnati.

Drama students at state colleges and universities will be recruited for showboat plays as it is towed from city to city.

United Funds Election Set

The United Funds of Beaver County will hold its third annual meeting Wednesday 12:15 p. m., in the Penn Beaver Hotel. Ten members will be elected to the Board of Directors for a three-year term as well as the executive officers for 1963.

A. C. Keller, president, will present a review of the funds program since its inception in 1959 to the 100 annual members and agencies comprising the corporation.

Atty. Harold F. Reed Jr., secretary-treasurer, will review the financial status of the fund and project the future goals and needs of federated fund-raising in the county.

The 100 annual members compose the corporation of the United Funds of Beaver County and are representative of the many thousands of people contributing annually. However, anyone making a contribution to the United Fund during the past year is welcome to participate in the annual meeting, Keller said.

Nominations for directors, annual members and officers were prepared and will be presented by a nominating committee composed of Joseph N. Tosh, chairman, Robert E. Shoup and Oren O. Todd.

Arrangements and preparations for the annual meeting were the result of planning and co-ordination by a committee composed of Harold F. Reed, Jr., chairman, S. W. Boone and Paul Marshall.

The Board of Directors will meet immediately following the annual session and elect its officers.

Holt Gives Data On Effect Of Cuts To Ohio Schools

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Board of Education has heard a report by Instruction Supt. E. E. Holt on the effect reductions in state expenditures have had on the Education Department.

Board members also received Monday proposals for a broad school improvement program including urgent goals to be achieved by 1970.

Referring to an across - the-board cut of 9.1 per cent in operating costs of state departments, Holt said the order will mean reduced expenditures of $389,872 for his department in the last half of the fiscal year ending June 30.

He added however, that he was advised by Finance Director Richard Krabach that no cuts were to be made in essential services.

Twenty-four persons originally were dropped from the department's payroll, but 12 have been restored because their services were judged essential, Holt said.

The improvement program, prepared by a board committee, was submitted to the board for adoption after seven months of preparation.

Among other things, it called for increasing from 240 to 500 the minimum size for senior high schools "where topography and density of population permit," widespread experimentation in instruction, and a post high school public education program which includes vocational, technical and adult programs.

Supt. Donald T. Duke of the water department said the Civil Service Commission will be asked to furnish the board with a certified list from which a successor can be named. Zehnder has held the city post since Dec. 1, when he was appointed to replace the late Lee B. Carroll.

The Civil Service Commission's files contain an eligibility list as a result of a test it conducted to fill the original vacancy.

No Violation Seen Of Hatch Act On Layoffs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Layoffs of state employes in Ohio by the new Republican state administration, so far as the Civil Service Commission can determine, have not been in violation of the federal Hatch Act, a commission spokesman says.

The spokesman added Monday, however, that the commission based its finding solely on information supplied in a letter of protest from Democratic State Rep. Thomas P. Gilmartin. He said that if Gilmartin can supply additional information, the commission "certainly will continue to investigate."

Gilmartin's letter reportedly charged that some layoffs have been in violation of the Hatch Act because the salaries of affected employes were paid in part with federal funds.

An estimated 3,500 - 4,000 state workers have been removed from state payrolls since Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes took office Jan. 14. The move was described as an austerity campaign designed to bring the state's expenditures and income into balance.

The commission said it planned to advise Gilmartin in a letter today of its finding.

Cage Fixer Faces 10-15 Year Term

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Molinas, a tall, handsome ex-basketball star who once reportedly boasted he'd never be implicated, faces a jail term of 10 to 15 years today for masterminding a $70,000 fix of college basketball games.

"In my opinion, you are a completely immoral person. You are the prime mover of the conspiracy and you were the person most responsible. You callously used your prestige as a former basketball star to corrupt college basketball players and to defraud the public," Judge Joseph A. Sarafite of State Supreme Court told Molinas, 30, in passing sentence Monday.

The sentencing of the 6-foot-6 former Columbia University star end Fort Wayne professional player, along with two confessed bribers, was hailed by Walter Byers, executive director of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

"We are indebted to the energies and efficiency of the law enforcement agencies of New York and appreciate of the attitude of the court itself," Byers said.

Sentenced with Molinas, who was convicted Jan. 8 on five counts of bribery, were Joseph Hacken, 42, of New York, and Philip LaCort, 39, of Boston. Hacken, described as Molinas' chief lieutenant in the plot to fix 43 games between 1957 and 1961, was sentenced to 7½ to eight years. LaCort, who pleaded guilty to fronting for a Boston gambling group, received 2½ to five years.

Aaron Wagman, 29, of New York, who had pleaded guilty to bribing nine players and making 37 bribe payoffs, received a suspended sentence of three to five years because he spent 23 months in jail as a material witness in testifying against Molinas. He also faces a five-to-10 year term on a Florida conviction for football fixing.

Five other former players, Lou Brown, Charles Tucker, Jerry Vogel, Dan Quindazzi, and Dave Budin, received suspended sentences after cooperating with Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan in his investigation.

Brown, who has moved from his Jersey City home to Greenville, N.C., formerly played at the University of North Carolina; Tucker, of Yonkers, N.Y., at Kalamazoo, Mich., College; Vogel and Quindazzi, both of Yonkers, N.Y., at the University of Alabama, and Budin at Brooklyn College.

The "unsigned" club lost an outfielder Monday when Willie McCovey accepted a 1963 salary estimated at between $18,000 and $20,000 and including what club officials called a nice increase.

Eight key members of the National League champions still haven't come to terms. They are center fielder Willie Mays, first baseman Orlando Cepeda, pitchers Jack Sanford, Billy O'Dell, Juan Marichal and Don Larsen, outfielder Matty Alou and shortstop Jose Pagan.

Duke Snider and two other Los Angeles Dodgers came to terms Monday. The veteran outfielder signed his 16th contract with the Dodgers for an estimated $34,000, same salary he received last year. Catcher Johnny Roseboro and infielder Daryl Spencer also joined the Dodger fold.

The New York Yankees' advance camp got underway in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., with 38 players on hand. Manager Ralph Houk said that the first base scramble could prove interesting. Joe Pepitone and rookie Mike Hegan, both candidates for the job, took part in the drill.

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Johnny Coulon, world bantamweight boxing champion from 1908 to 1914, reached his 74th birthday today and challenged the Washington walking society to a 50-mile hike.

The frisky, effervescent little man is a classic example of what a physical fitness program followed through life can mean to a senior citizen.

"I see where (Attorney General) Bobby Kennedy walked 50 miles in 17 hours," said Coulon, a rabid Democrat. "He's half my age and apparently in wonderful shape. But I would like for him to call me up and say: 'John, how would you like to walk 50 miles with me?' Bet I could do it in less than 17 hours."

Coulon, known as the Chicago Spider in his fighting days, and his tiny, sparkling Irish wife, Marie, have operated a tidy gym on Chicago's South Side for 40 years. Johnny is the instructor. Maria is the matchmaker. She has made well over 25,000 matches, amateur and professional.

"I don't think much of a crash physical fitness program," said Coulon. "It is something that should be practiced through life.

"Today, while everybody else is catching a cab to go two or three miles, I walk. And not to save money. During a day in the gym, I bounce around 10 to 12 miles giving instructions.

"We are having a little birthday party in the gym today. I'll get a cake. We can't get 74 candles on it because the fire commissioner said it would be too much of a hazard.

"Anyway, I have my own way of blowing out the candles we do have. I stand on my hands and blow them out upside-down. Try it sometime. It's good for the neck muscles."

Toronto-born Johnny — who helped teach such fighters as Tony Zale, Barney Ross and King Levinsky — always has worn the stamp of ruggedness despite his size. He stands 4-feet-11¾-inches and weighs 108 pounds, the same as in his fighting days.

Lausche Attacks Plan For Tax Reduction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans should beware of "this 1963 school of economists" who claim a tax cut without a reduction in federal spending will spur the economy, Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, says.

"We are primarily in need of tax reform aimed at producing a system of taxation which will restore incentives for investments and remove the present provisions deterring our economic growth," the senator added in a statement Monday.

Centennial Craft Will Visit Weirton

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia's centennial showboat "Omar", a soon-to-be refurbished and spruced-up Ohio River veteran, has 19 communities as its ports of call this summer.

The State Centennial Commission said tentative plans are for the old sternwheeler to visit Fairmont, Morgantown, Weirton, Wellsburg, Wheeling, Moundsville, New Martinsville, Sistersville, St. Marys, Parkersburg, Ravenswood, Point Pleasant, Winfield, St. Albans, Charleston, Montgomery, Huntington, Kenova and Dunbar.

The 28-year-old steam-powered craft was given to the state by the Ohio River Co. in 1961. For many years it was used to tow coal barges between Huntington and Cincinnati.

Drama students at state colleges and universities will be recruited for showboat plays as it is towed from city to city.

United Funds Election Set

The United Funds of Beaver County will hold its third annual meeting Wednesday 12:15 p. m., in the Penn Beaver Hotel. Ten members will be elected to the Board of Directors for a three-year term as well as the executive officers for 1963.

A. C. Keller, president, will present a review of the funds program since its inception in 1959 to the 100 annual members and agencies comprising the corporation.

Atty. Harold F. Reed Jr., secretary-treasurer, will review the financial status of the fund and project the future goals and needs of federated fund-raising in the county.

The 100 annual members compose the corporation of the United Funds of Beaver County and are representative of the many thousands of people contributing annually. However, anyone making a contribution to the United Fund during the past year is welcome to participate in the annual meeting, Keller said.

Nominations for directors, annual members and officers were prepared and will be presented by a nominating committee composed of Joseph N. Tosh, chairman, Robert E. Shoup and Oren O. Todd.

Arrangements and preparations for the annual meeting were the result of planning and co-ordination by a committee composed of Harold F. Reed, Jr., chairman, S. W. Boone and Paul Marshall.

The Board of Directors will meet immediately following the annual session and elect its officers.

Holt Gives Data On Effect Of Cuts To Ohio Schools

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Board of Education has heard a report by Instruction Supt. E. E. Holt on the effect reductions in state expenditures have had on the Education Department.

Board members also received Monday proposals for a broad school improvement program including urgent goals to be achieved by 1970.

Referring to an across - the-board cut of 9.1 per cent in operating costs of state departments, Holt said the order will mean reduced expenditures of $389,872 for his department in the last half of the fiscal year ending June 30.

He added however, that he was advised by Finance Director Richard Krabach that no cuts were to be made in essential services.

Twenty-four persons originally were dropped from the department's payroll, but 12 have been restored because their services were judged essential, Holt said.

The improvement program, prepared by a board committee, was submitted to the board for adoption after seven months of preparation.

Among other things, it called for increasing from 240 to 500 the minimum size for senior high schools "where topography and density of population permit," widespread experimentation in instruction, and a post high school public education program which includes vocational, technical and adult programs.

Zehnder To Quit City Office Post

Paul H. Zehnder of Fairmont St. has submitted his resignation to the Board of Public Utilities as a billing machine operator in the city water works department office to assume a post as news director of WOHI.

Zehnder will leave the city post Saturday, March 2, and start his duties with the radio station Monday, March 4.

Supt. Donald T. Duke of the water department said the Civil Service Commission will be asked to furnish the board with a certified list from which a successor can be named. Zehnder has held the city post since Dec. 1, when he was appointed to replace the late Lee B. Carroll.

The Civil Service Commission's files contain an eligibility list as a result of a test it conducted to fill the original vacancy.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Layoffs of state employes in Ohio by the new Republican state administration, so far as the Civil Service Commission can determine, have not been in violation of the federal Hatch Act, a commission spokesman says.

The spokesman added Monday, however, that the commission based its finding solely on information supplied in a letter of protest from Democratic State Rep. Thomas P. Gilmartin. He said that if Gilmartin can supply additional information, the commission "certainly will continue to investigate."

Gilmartin's letter reportedly charged that some layoffs have been in violation of the Hatch Act because the salaries of affected employes were paid in part with federal funds.

An estimated 3,500 - 4,000 state workers have been removed from state payrolls since Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes took office Jan. 14. The move was described as an austerity campaign designed to bring the state's expenditures and income into balance.

The commission said it planned to advise Gilmartin in a letter today of its finding.

Tommy Sands Becomes 'The Quiet Rebel'

The irrevocable proof that you are in your mid-30s comes on the day when you define the enemy as someone in his mid-20s. The exact measure of the sideburns, the leanness of the jaw, the still-cool wedding ring, the special vocabulary, the beat to the song — all these features contribute to the general distrust. In these, my mid-30s, I don't think I've ever met a fellow more definitvely mid-20s than Tommy Sands — singer, actor — and Daddy-o, this kid is fine.

Alan Gill

SANDS IS a trim, blue-cheeked chap of 24, with hair that lumps up in front and comes to a needle point at the sides. He has a side-of-the-mouth savvy in his speech; he has a pretty little bride named Nancy; he has the enthusiasm of a neophyte evangelist; and he is setting his sights for television.

Next Thursday night he will star in "Blow Hard, Blow Clear," a "Premiere" drama about a "mixed-up kid who runs away to sea." It's a spin-off, meaning it will be around all next season if you like the audition this week.

"I play a guy," Sands was saying the other day, "who's trying to live up to the image of his dead father. The old man was an exciting-type character.

"If the thing goes, we'll take our freighter around the world, a kind of sea-going 'Route 66' — to China, Germany, Spain. We'd be away 10 to 12 weeks a season with exterior shooting.Then, back to Hollywood for the rest of it."

THE IDEA of travel appeals to Tommy Sands.

"I want to delve into the Peace Corps, see what the young people are up to around the world. There are great stories there — situations of the American abroad in Asia. These things interest me."

They interest Sands to the point where he has started, with two other young men, an unaffiliated, un-right, un-left, nonprofit organization called Quiet Fight.

"The idea is to keep kids — keep everybody in fact — informed on the world around them. One of the jobs we're doing is extending courtesy to foreign students in this country.

"We'll take 'em to Washington and California, show them what America is really like, make sure the movie people they see aren't the blowhards, etc.

"WE'RE DOING a show in Washington in June — Robert Kennedy, maybe, as a guest and Sammy Davis Jr., the Kingston Trio, Bobby Darin — and we'll tape it and then try selling it to a network.

"But our main job is putting out a bi-monthly newsletter, and anybody can find out all about it by writing me care of Quiet Fight, Revue Studios, North Hollywood."

Sands approaches music with a similar seriousness and is a defender of the stuff you get from the juke box:

"It's got a vibrant, throbbing feel to it that's real good."

He's a Ray Charles fan:

"Charles makes any song the greatest; he somehow gets hold of it and shakes it."

And he handles his own double career tenderly: "I want to keep my singing and acting separate so that everyone won't be calling me an actor who TRIED to sing or a singer who TRIED to act."

-:-

TOMMY SANDS, you see, is a conscientious young man, with strong opinions on everything from the curriculum in kindergartens ("Throw away the sand pile") to the teaching methods in the higher grades ("The kids are so bored they're stealing hubcaps") and on to the rebellion of the teen-ager.

"Kids," said Sands, "are frustrated by the lack of opportunity to do something; for 15 years there's been nothing to contribute to. Some kids wear the leather jacket and the motorcycle boots as a way of knocking the phoniness of society, conventionality, and insincerity, which is the big sin.

"These same kids, they'd be the heroes in stress, the first out there with the machine guns. They're the kids who, a little later, take the extension courses and join the Peace Corps."

As I left, Sands pulled at my elbow and said, "Please, don't get me wrong. I'm not a spokesman for the kids or anything. Nobody can be that."

Paperhandlers Reach Accord In Cleveland Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Paperhandlers Local 11 is the second of 12 unions to reach a contract agreement with Cleveland's two strikebound daily newspapers.

Agreement still is to be reached with 10 other unions, including five that are on strike, before the 75-day-old strike can be settled.

The Paperhandlers, representing 70 employes at the Plain Dealer and the Press and News, reached agreement at an afternoon negotiating session, and the pact was approved by the membership Monday night. A union spokesman said the vote was overwhelming.

The $10-a-week package increase includes improvements in employer hospitalization and pension contributions, the spokesman said. He did not give a breakdown on the package. The agreement includes improvements in manning provisions also, he reported.

Store Owner Loses In Blue Laws Case

CINCINNATI (AP) — The 3rd District State Appeals Court has handed Ben Schottenstein of Cincinnati a setback in his bid for a court order banning police from arresting him for Sunday sales violations. The Appeals Court Monday upheld Judge Simon Leis's Common Pleas Court ruling that the order was not proper.

Schottenstein contended his department store sold items exempt under the state blue laws and said his employes observed a Saturday Sabbath.

Young Wife Has Mature Attitude On Problem

It takes courage to be starkly honest in making a personal appraisal. There is a strong tendency to gloss over one's shortcomings instead of facing the facts in a mature way

Ida Jean Kain

The young wife who asked to be our anonymous dieter has real courage. Married only a short time, she has gained 60 excess pounds. Recently she learned to her consternation that her husband is stepping out.

Her second letter shows she has come to grips with her problem, and that she is taking needed action. We salute her!

"As you will see by my chart, I have lost seven pounds in the past three weeks. My weight is now 173 pounds. I thank you from the bottom of my heart for answering my letter, and I hope I can live up to my promise.

"PERHAPS MY personal problems go deeper than just my weight, but by takng action, this can help me to cope with them too.

"You may or may not want to pass this on to your readers. But I will tell you my thoughts. Heavy women, especially those who were slim when they first married sometimes say 'If my husband truly loved me then, he should love me now. I'm the same person.' "

"This is not ture. A fatty who was formerly slim is not really the same person. Not only do you look different, you do not act the same. There is a definite personality change.

"Perhaps it's the self-consciousness. But little by little you become more withdrawn. You hold on to small hurts, magnifying them. You are not happy, and so it is easy to be irritable.

"You tire quickly with the added weight, and it seems to take too much effort to keep yourself, your house and your disposition up to par," she concluded.

Such complete honesty is rare, indeed. You are not trying to justify yourself. This willingness to accept responsibility is a great help in releasing your will for action.

It would be wise for you to seek medical aid. Your tiredness may have a physical basis aside from the burden of weight.

NOBODY CAN do the reducing for you, but your doctor can help you in many ways. Do not ask for an appetite depressant. You've got that licked.

Your letters prove you have what it takes to succeed, not halfway, but to succeed beyond your present expectations.

You are so right in thinking that a willingness to take action on the weight score, without flinching, will help you to grow as a person. Bless you, my dear.

Jimmy Durante Still Going At 70

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Jimmy (the Schnozz) Durante admitted today he had a birthday—his 70th—"but I don't want everybody to know about it."

The veteran entertainer, interviewed at a hotel where he is appearing, described it this way:

"Thank God I had another birthday. Da party? Sure. It was after da show an' they asked me if I didn't want to come in and have some tea. It was a big surprise to me. We had a wonderful time.

"Mrs. Morris Lansburgh (whose husband owns the hotel) gave it. He's in Las Vegas. A few of my friends was there—George Raft, Eleanor Holm, Rocky Marciano, Little Jack Carter, Gene Bayless, Peter Lawford and a lot of others.

"I wanted to go four rounds wit' Rocky, but he wouldn't take me on. Everybody had a lot of fun."

Durante does an hour and 15-minute show and keeps going night after night.

"No other entertainers—just us," he said.

Between shows Monday night he entertained the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association at their annual banquet.

The record says Durante was born in Brooklyn in 1893 and that he started in show business at 17, which means he's starting his 54th year on the stage.

Injunction Upheld On Holidays Dispute

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A question mark loomed over the extent of state government operations today in the wake of a permanent court injunction upholding Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays as state holidays.

The 10th District Court of Appeals, acting Monday on the eve of Lincoln's Birthday, made permanent a lower court injunction against a Rhodes' administration order making both birthdays "business as usual" days.

In doubt were how many employes would respond to an administration request for workers to report to their jobs voluntarily.

Child's Eating Problems Discussed

Of the many letters I receive about the child who doesn't eat as much as his mother thinks he should, or who refuses essential foods, few refer to the youngster under two; most are about the child from two to five. One reason may be that prepared foods in sealed cans are very widely given the baby under two and are usually served him alone with his mother. Not many babies under two eat at the family board. When the child eats with the family, there are more foods he is urged to eat; there are also some he is forbidden to eat. And there are present several older persons inclined to urge him to eat what he doesn't want or to annoy him about food and eating.

AT WHATEVER age the baby begins to eat with the family, the change would be made easier if some of the prepared foods he ate before were still offered him. The sudden shift from eating some food out of cans to eating all food from a plate is not easy for the tot.

Before you begin to bring the baby to the family table, have him well trained in accepting No as final. Then there will be no irritations when he is told "That is only for big people". Have the adults of the family ready to mind their own business and not to say a word about the baby's eating.

Put on the youngster's plate a very, very small portion of only one food at a time. If he eagerly drinks milk, don't have a glass of it before him till later in the meal. If he inclines to avoid milk, place a very small portion of milk before him first.

Make your rule — one food at a time and very little of it. Don't tell him to eat it. Assume that he will.

As he shows enjoyment of the foods offered, you might put a small portion of two or more foods on his plate. But the danger is that you will put too many there and too much of each. Your next impulse is to urge him to eat, even to press him into doing so.

HE MAY REFUSE to taste some or all vegetables or any new food.

Suppose this happens and string beans are on the table. Put on his plate a piece of string bean about half an inch long.

Don't tell him to eat it, but tell him he can have no other food till he does. If he chooses to eat it, give him a small portion of one or more other foods on the table he asks for.

Out Of The Air

Tommy Sands Becomes 'The Quiet Rebel'

The irrevocable proof that you are in your mid-30s comes on the day when you define the enemy as someone in his mid-20s. The exact measure of the sideburns, the leanness of the jaw, the still-cool wedding ring, the special vocabulary, the beat to the song — all these features contribute to the general distrust. In these, my mid-30s, I don't think I've ever met a fellow more definitvely mid-20s than Tommy Sands — singer, actor — and Daddy-o, this kid is fine.

SANDS IS a trim, blue-cheeked chap of 24, with hair that lumps up in front and comes to a needle point at the sides. He has a side-of-the-mouth savvy in his speech; he has a pretty little bride named Nancy; he has the enthusiasm of a neophyte evangelist; and he is setting his sights for television.

Next Thursday night he will star in "Blow Hard, Blow Clear," a "Premiere" drama about a "mixed-up kid who runs away to sea." It's a spin-off, meaning it will be around all next season if you like the audition this week.

"I play a guy," Sands was saying the other day, "who's trying to live up to the image of his dead father. The old man was an exciting-type character.

"If the thing goes, we'll take our freighter around the world, a kind of sea-going 'Route 66' — to China, Germany, Spain. We'd be away 10 to 12 weeks a season with exterior shooting.Then, back to Hollywood for the rest of it."

THE IDEA of travel appeals to Tommy Sands.

"I want to delve into the Peace Corps, see what the young people are up to around the world. There are great stories there — situations of the American abroad in Asia. These things interest me."

They interest Sands to the point where he has started, with two other young men, an unaffiliated, un-right, un-left, nonprofit organization called Quiet Fight.

"The idea is to keep kids — keep everybody in fact — informed on the world around them. One of the jobs we're doing is extending courtesy to foreign students in this country.

"We'll take 'em to Washington and California, show them what America is really like, make sure the movie people they see aren't the blowhards, etc.

"WE'RE DOING a show in Washington in June — Robert Kennedy, maybe, as a guest and Sammy Davis Jr., the Kingston Trio, Bobby Darin — and we'll tape it and then try selling it to a network.

"But our main job is putting out a bi-monthly newsletter, and anybody can find out all about it by writing me care of Quiet Fight, Revue Studios, North Hollywood."

He's a Ray Charles fan:

Paperhandlers Reach Accord In Cleveland Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Paperhandlers Local 11 is the second of 12 unions to reach a contract agreement with Cleveland's two strikebound daily newspapers.

Agreement still is to be reached with 10 other unions, including five that are on strike, before the 75-day-old strike can be settled.

The Paperhandlers, representing 70 employes at the Plain Dealer and the Press and News, reached agreement at an afternoon negotiating session, and the pact was approved by the membership Monday night. A union spokesman said the vote was overwhelming.

The $10-a-week package increase includes improvements in employer hospitalization and pension contributions, the spokesman said. He did not give a breakdown on the package. The agreement includes improvements in manning provisions also, he reported.

Women's Group Picks Mrs. Clarence Green

Mrs. Clarence Green was named president to serve the unexpired term of Mrs. Mary Drake, who resigned, when the WSCS of the Green Valley Methodist Church of Shippingport met Wednesday afternoon in the social rooms.

The program featured slides of the Methodist Hospital and Home at Mt. Lebanon, screened by Mrs. Robert Christy, vice president.

Mrs. Richard Morrow read Scripture from 1 John: 1-10. The group made plans to sell dish cloths and a discussion was held on sponsoring a rummage sale this spring, with Mrs. Dorothy Hayward to be in charge of the project.

Mrs. Christy conducted business. Lunch was served 17 by Mrs. Hayward and Mrs. Hattie Hayward.

Store Owner Loses In Blue Laws Case

CINCINNATI (AP) — The 3rd District State Appeals Court has handed Ben Schottenstein of Cincinnati a setback in his bid for a court order banning police from arresting him for Sunday sales violations. The Appeals Court Monday upheld Judge Simon Leis's Common Pleas Court ruling that the order was not proper.

Schottenstein contended his department store sold items exempt under the state blue laws and said his employes observed a Saturday Sabbath.

Boy Killed On Bike

CINCINNATI (AP) — Paul V. Bower, 5, was killed when he rode his tricycle into the street and was struck by a car near his Reading home Monday, police said.

Jimmy Durante Still Going At 70

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)— Jimmy (the Schnozz) Durante admitted today he had a birthday—his 70th—"but I don't want everybody to know about it."

The veteran entertainer, interviewed at a hotel where he is appearing, described it this way:

"Thank God I had another birthday. Da party? Sure. It was after da show an' they asked me if I didn't want to come in and have some tea. It was a big surprise to me. We had a wonderful time.

"Mrs. Morris Lansburgh (whose husband owns the hotel) gave it. He's in Las Vegas. A few of my friends was there—George Raft, Eleanor Holm, Rocky Marciano, Little Jack Carter, Gene Bayless, Peter Lawford and a lot of others.

"I wanted to go four rounds wit' Rocky, but he wouldn't take me on. Everybody had a lot of fun."

Durante does an hour and 15-minute show and keeps going night after night.

"No other entertainers—just us," he said.

The record says Durante was born in Brooklyn in 1893 and that he started in show business at 17, which means he's starting his 54th year on the stage.

Marion Concern Gets Space Agency Pact

MARION, Ohio (AP) — Marion Power Shovel Co., major manufacturer of heavy equipment, has received an order from the Space Agency to build two giant crawler vehicles to be used in the Apollo moonshot program.

To cost $5 million each, the 5.5 million pound crawlers will be used to carry the Apollo spacecraft and its equipment into launching position.

Injunction Upheld On Holidays Dispute

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A question mark loomed over the extent of state government operations today in the wake of a permanent court injunction upholding Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays as state holidays.

The 10th District Court of Appeals, acting Monday on the eve of Lincoln's Birthday, made permanent a lower court injunction against a Rhodes' administration order making both birthdays "business as usual" days.

In doubt were how many employes would respond to an administration request for workers to report to their jobs voluntarily.

Junior Editors Quiz on SPACE

QUESTION: Why did we send a rocket to Venus?

ANSWER. Mariner II, the first instrument-carrying probe capable of sending back information on a neighboring planet, was launched Aug. 27, 1962. We feel a great sense of pride in our scientists who made possible the historic flight of Mariner II. James E. Webb, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, has termed Mariner's flight "The most significant and perhaps the most spectacular of our scientific efforts to date." Senator Robert Kerr, chairman of the Senate Space Committee has said: "I am convinced the nation which leads in exploring and using space for peaceful purposes can best build, improve and inherit the earth." Senator Kerr no doubt had in mind the enormous increase in knowledge about our universe which such flights can give us, knowledge which will help us work toward making this a happier world.

FOR YOU TO DO: We suggest you keep a space scrap book using newspaper and magazines which tell about thrilling new space flights. You can begin by pasting in our picture giving dates and facts about Mariner II's famous trip.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, Feb. 12, the 43rd day of 1963. There are 322 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1809, the 16th president of the United States, Abraham Lincoln, was born in a log cabin in Larue County, Ky.

On this day:

In 1795, Moses Brown made the first deposit of gold bullion for coinage in the United States.

In 1889, Norman Colman was appointed first secretary of agriculture following elevation of the Bureau of Agriculture to the status of an executive department of the U.S. government.

In 1935, the U.S. Navy dirigible Macon sank off the coast of California with all but two of the 83 persons aboard rescued.

In 1945, the White House announced that the Yalta Big Three Conference produced decisions on the defeat and postwar treatment of Germany.

Today's birthdays:

Retired labor leader John L. Lewis is 83. Retired Army Gen. Omar Bradley is 70.

Thought for today:

Odd Facts

Keep plenty of bouillon cubes on hand — whether just to make a cup of hot beverage or to use as a substitute when recipes call for stock or broth. Try dissolving a bouillon cube and stirring it into scrambled eggs. Or pour bouillon broth over baked potatoes if your diet excludes butter and gravy. Any stew, gravy, or soup is improved with a touch of bouillon.

Put leftover bread that is dry enough to be crisp through the food chopper, then sift. The sifted very fine crumbs should be stored in one container, the coarser crumbs in another.

Light consists of waves and the color of light depends on the wave length. The longest wave lengths that we can see are red, the shortest violet. White light is a mixture of many wave lengths, and our eyes respond differently to these wave lengths and send different signals to the brain — this resulting in the sensation of color.

"Clay pigeons", the traditional trap-shooting targets, are manufactured from a mixture of ground limestone and pitch blended together and formed in hot dies. They are commonly called clay pigeons as a holdover from the days when live targets were used.

Lake Superior, with an area of 31,820 square miles, is the largest fresh - water lake in the world. Superior, however, is dwarfed by the largest salt - water lake, the Caspian Sea between Russia and Iran. It has an area of 143,550 square miles.

In the fiscal year 1962, the Denver and Philadelphia mints turned out a record 3,400,000,000 coins, twice the number produced in fiscal 1959. Production is expected to be the same as '62 in 1963.
